WIDOWS AID FROM SHOW PROCEEDS SATURDAY

Big Time Vaudeville on Bill Last Day; Queen Race Gets Warm

A widows' relief fund matinee will be staged at the Sciots' Circus tomorrow afternoon, reports Toparch H. M. Bennett of Pyramid No. 39, with all the proceeds from sale of tickets and reserved seats going toward the sum being raised for the families of Clarence Edwards and Joseph W. McGahan, who lost their lives fighting the foothill fire here.

In addition to the regular circus performance, there will be eight big acts of vaudeville from Pantages and the Orpheum circuits, the show starting at 1 o'clock and continuing throughout the afternoon.

"Let's have the biggest turn-out yet," urges Toparch Bennett. "We can entertain 500 or 1000 at no greater cost than 100, so let's see a real crowd!"

Last night at the Sciots' Circus was American Legion night and the buddies were there in force and "a good time was had by all." As half the proceeds went into the Legionnaires' strong-box and they did a big business at their concession as well, all is well with Post No. 127, reports Commander Chalmer D. Day.

CITY'S EMPLOYES CONTRIBUTE $201

Cheerfully Chip in Dollars to Aid Edwards and McGahan Families

Employes of the city of Glendale have subscribed a total of $201 to the relief fund being raised through The Glendale Evening News for the families of Clarence Edwards and Joseph W. McGahan, who perished while fighting flames in the hills east of the city a week ago Saturday.

The money was brought to The Glendale Evening News by O. F. Summers, a city employe, and inquiry at the City Hall shows that the municipal workers gave cheerfully and liberally. Many of the employes have give nseveral times to the fund, for they belong to societiees and organizations that have lready taken up subscriptions.

The fact that the employes of the city of Glendale raised the sum of $201 among themselves for the relief of the stricken families is considered very creditable and displays the right kind of spirit.

More Picture Stars

Viola Dana and Shirley Mason, talented sisters, prominent film stars, have joined the group of professionals who are to share with Glendale in the big success of the program Tuesday night, November 6, at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse, to round out in big figures the fund for Mrs. Johanna Edwards and Mrs. Joseph W. McGahan and sons, relatives of the two heroes who lost their lives in the hill fire October 13.

The names of Misses Dana and Mason were announced this morning by Miss Dresser, and the special attraction of the announcement is that these two artists will present a dance number, a take-off on Mr. and Mrs. Rudolfo Valentino. Misses Dana and Mason are to present this number at the Actors' Fund benefit in Los Angeles on Monday night.

Strictly Professional

Miss Dresser's message to Glendalians is:

"I want to express my appreciation to the many Glendale people who call me up and offer their services for this benefit program. I wish we might include them.

"But it is filling up so fast that it is necessary to confine it to strictly professional talent. However, the spirit being shown by Glendale people is fine, and while we can't give them places on the program, we want to heartily

HOUSE OF PETER HOST TO REALTORS

Convention Delegates Enjoy Post Mortem Party at Hanson Home

By H. THOMPSON RICH
Of The Evening News Staff

The "House of Peter" welcomed the returned realtors of the Sacramento caravan at a "convention post mortem" and card party last night, the home of Mr. and Mrs Peter Hanson at 221 West Arden avenue blazing with merriment until a late hour.

High lights of the recent doings up north were hilariously rehearsed and the findings thrown on the table for open discussion. Several members made one-minute orations on "The Funniest Thing I Saw On the Trip," among those contributing this amusing anecdote being Mrs. E. L. Foor; Cameron D. Thom, president of the Glendale Realty board; E. P. Hayward, executive secretary; Miss Winnifred Traver, office secretary, and Charles B. Guthrie, state vice-president.

It was a good thing all the guests didn't arrive on time, for such a stroke of incredible coincidence would have spoiled half the fun. Each time a party arrived, they were greeted as follows:

1. Deathly silence.

2. An ear-splitting, concerted whistle.

3. A roar of welcome—"Howdy., So-and-So!"

Four tables of Five Hundred were finally formed, with a fifth table for late-comers, and a few frames run off between a barrage of chatter that was laid down between the tables.

After an hour or more of playing, tallies were totaled, and Mrs. S. S. Gulhuly was seen to have annexed the first prize for the women, with Mrs. J. I. Wernette as runner-up. At this point it must be remarked that the men evidently played a very poor game, for your correspondent annexed chief honors in this department, M. V. Hartranft of Tujunga being second to the tape.

Delicious refreshments were then served, with a special package of soup ingredients to Mr. Thom, who had been vociferous in his demands for sustenance, but seemed to lose all thought of the inner man on sight of such unctuous "makings." It was, indeed, a touching sight as, overcome with emotion, he rose from the table and tried to express himself. The spirit was there, but the words faltered. He sank back, subsided. The party rolled on to a reluctant close.

Following is the list of guests entertained last night by Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hanson: Mr. and Mrs. Cameron D. Thom, Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Guthrie, Mr. and Mrs. William Twining, Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Wernette, Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Gilhuly, Mr. and Mrs. William P. MacMullin, Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Hartranft, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Rich, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Marple, E. P. Hayward, Mrs. E. L. Foor and Miss Winnifred Traver.

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 26.—Two bandits, roughly dressed, entered the Norwalk Commercial and Savings Bank at Norwalk, ten miles from here this afternoon, robbed the institution and escaped with a large sum of money, according to meager reports to the sheriff's office.

COUNCIL RESCINDS ENGINEERING DEAL

Citizens Make Plea That Ed. M. Lynch Do Work on Sewer Plans

Without a dissenting voice the city council last night formally ratified the tentative contract recently made with the engineering firm of Burns & McDonnell of Kansas City, to make a survey and furnish cost estimates for Glendale's sewer system, and within a few minutes rescinded its action and placed the matter on schedule for further consideration Monday next.

Councilman Asa Hall was the only objector when the council changed its attitude.

Councilman Sam Davis moved that the previous action be rescinded, but his motion was stricken out in view of his failure to vote on the original motion, as a result of his attention being drawn to other matters when the vote was taken. Councilman C. E. Kimlin put the motion, which was seconded by Councilman W. A. Horn.

Citizens Protest

The council's quick reversal of its agreement with the engineers followed urgent requests on the part of several citizens who insist that Ed. M. Lynch, a local engineer, be considered for the position. Among those who appeared in behalf of Mr. Lynch, were Roy L. Kent, director of the Chamber of Commerce, who declared the council would be endangering the passage of the bond issue should it proceed to employ an outside engineering firm to do the work. He declared that Mr. Lynch had been practicing his profession here for years and is in possession of information it will take the outsiders a long time to acquire. The fact that he employs a large staff of local men, and disburses a monthly payrooll of $11,000 was referred to. Albert Priest, D. L. Gregg and others addressed the council in behalf of Mr. Lynch.

Prepare Sewer Plans

Among other matters taken up by the council was a petition for an improvement district to provide for paving, sewers, house connections and water and gas mains on Niodrara drive between Colma drive and Wabasso way. City Attorney Ray L. Morrow was instructed to prepare proceedings.

The emergency sewerage ordinance, providing for grease traps at restaurants and sumps for garages, was presented by the city attorney and started on the customary route.

A communication offering the city the use of men and equipment in event of danger was received from C. B. Boynton, assistant manager and development engineer of the Forest Lawn Memorial Park association.

Men and Water Available

Referring to the recent fire, Mr. Boynton expressed the belief that city officials should be aware of the forces available throughout the city, so they could be called immediately into service. He enumerated considerable equipment, including motor cars, trucks, traction engines, picks and shovels, in addition to 155 workmen regularly employed, all of which could be placed at the city's disposal on a few minutes' notice.

The communication also announced plans for the immediate construction of a standpipe water tower, sixty feet high, on the top of Mount Forest, which will have a storage capacity of 165,000 gallons and 300 gallons per minute thereafter supplied by the association's own pumps. Independent

BERLIN, Oct. 26.—Fresh battles between German police and separatists were reported from the Ruhr today.

Fighting agian broke out at Duisburg, on the northern edge of the Ruhr. The secessionists had seized the town hall on Thursday.

Bourgeois parties in the Rhine palatinate have sent word to Berlin that they are opposed to the socialists' efforts to gain autonomy. They have pledged loyalty to the German state.

The situation in the Ruhr has grown more serious over night. All coal mines owned by Hugo Stinnes, coal and iron magnate, have been closed down in the Essen district.

The first real test of the military dictatorship took place here today when the striking printers, who quit in sympathy with the employes of the Rote fahne, which was suppressed by the government, tried to tie up the currency printing presses.

BUILD SCHOOL IN WRONG LOCATION

Trustees Suffer Severe Pains in Reaching Solution of Grave Problem

By F. A. GRAHAM
Of The Evening News Staff

MONTROSE, Oct. 26.—Rectifying the mistake of erecting a large brick building on the wrong piece of ground offers a neat little problem in mathematics. Or maybe it comes under the head of geography.

On second thought it must come under the combined head of diplomacy and resourcefulness, because that is what the school trustees employed to get the Montrose school building back in line after they discovered that it had been built on the wrong lots.

The district owns four lots on Florencita avenue. The Montrose school plant will be in two units when completed. Unit No. 1 was to be built on the two easterly lots. Unit No. 2 plans call for a long building west of No. 1, with colonnade, patio and audtiorium.

No Place to Go

When the first unit was completed the trustees found they had no place to put the next unit because, didn't the plans say the colonnade should run west? And they didn't own any more ground west of unit No. 1, because it had been built on the two westerly lots where unit No. 2 should go.

"A nice situation," said they. "A fine situation, we must say."

What to do, what to do? Turn the plans around? No, that would make everything backwards, with the kids marching in reverse and like as not entering school in the eighth grade and graduating from the kindergarten.

Buy the necessary ground on the west? That takes money and money is the one thing which school trustees possess everything else but.

Trade the two easterly lots for some on the west? Wrong again, Mr. Gallagher. The school law

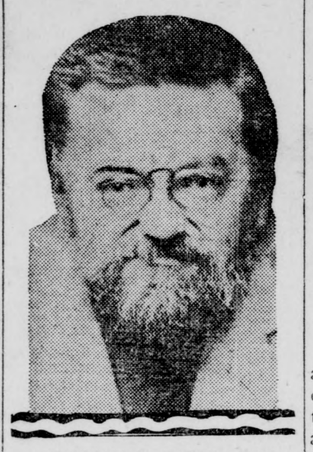
Wizard Dies



CHARLES P. STEINMETZ

Dr. Charles P. Steinmetz of Electrical Fame Taken Ill on Coast Trip

SCHENECTADY, N. Y., Oct. 26.—Charles Proteus Steinmetz, well known electrical wizard, died at his home here shortly before 8:30 o'clock this morning.

The end came very suddenly. He had been ill less than two weeks and during the last few days had been reported as rapidly recovering.

Born in Germany

Dr. Steinmetz was born at Breslau, Germany, April 9, 1865. He came to this country 34 years ago. For several years he had been chief electrical engineer at the General Electric company's plant in this city. He was regarded the world over as an electrical genius.

Dr. Steinmetz was being given his breakfast when he gasped and sank back on the pillow, dead. Just a minute before the end he had remarked to the nurse that he felt the best since he was taken sick. It is believed death was due to heart disease.

Statement Later

No information concerning Dr. Steinmetz's death could be obtained at his home, but it was announced that a statement would be issued later by officials at the General Electric company plant.

Dr. Steinmetz left Schenectady on September 1 for the Pacific coast. On the way he delivered numerous lectures in the middle western states. When he left home, his physician, Dr. H. P. Groesbeck, advised him to be careful about over-doing.

Schenectady was shocked when news of his death became known. He always had taken a

BRUTAL JAIL CONDITIONS REVEALED

17-Year-Old Glendale Boy Tells Story of Horrors He Experienced

By GIL A. COWAN
Of The Evening News Staff

Sheriff William Traeger's action in curbing the kangaroo court in the Los Angeles county jail has unsealed the lips of a 17-year-old Glendale boy, who, among others, have been accorded little less than bestial treatment by other prisoners while deputy jailers looked on, according to his story.

Los Angeles newspapers report that several Long Beach police officers incarcerated in the jail this week for alleged statutory offenses were severely beaten when they refused to recognize the "court." Because they were "officers" the sheriff was roused to conditions from which hundreds of others have suffered, it is said.

Tale of Brutality

The story told the writer in confidence by the local youngster, which is to be believed under the circumstances, is one which is largely unprintable. It indicates that brutality exists in its lowest forms among those who are supposed to keep the peace. As instances of this two deputy sheriffs were in a fight recently on a San Francisco-Los Angeles train after an attorney had nearly been killed.

That the same conditions exist at the Los Angeles police jail was indicated when a deputy district attorney was beaten up. A Glendale man also was given a "third degree" and forced to plead guilty to an unmentionable crime of which he was innocent, according to reports.

Speed Trap Victim

To revert, however, to the story of the boy who was fined $5 for going 25 miles an hour across an intersection and was remanded to three days in the county jail in lieu of the cash:

Within 10 minutes from the time he entered the tank he was "knocked out" by the denizens of the jail.

At that time the kangaroo court was presided over by a Mexican dope peddler and he was ably assisted by other Mexicans and negroes who were "in" for everything from murder down to petty larceny.

Robbed and Stripped

The boy, who should not have been sent to jail except that he failed to tell his age, was first

Big Improvements for Telephone Co. Here Announced

An expenditure of $200,000 is involved in the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company's program of construction to be carried out in Glendale during the balance of this year and early in 1924, reports Fred Deal, manager of the local office.

Of this sum the report states, $60,000 will be spent on a new cable project to serve the northwest and southwest sections of the city; $54,000 will go into switchboard equipment in the central office building at 125 South Brand boulevard; $30,000 in new cable will be added generally throughout the city; and $15,000 in new cable will be added in the extreme northwest section; while jobs scheduled for completion early in 1924 will add approximately $44,000 more—a total of 23,000,000 conductor feet of new cable being covered by this expenditure.

THE NEWS GETS CITY'S PRINTING

Council by Unanimous Vote Awards Year's Contract to Lowest Bidder

The Glendale Evening News, a 100 per cent Glendale institution, was last night unanimously awarded by the City Council the contract to do the city printing and publishing for one year.

The bid of The Glendale Evening News was considerably lower than that submitted by the local insert of The Los Angeles Evening Express and the fact that the city will have both printing and publishing done in the office of The Glendale Evening News will result in a large saving to the taxpayers, it is pointed out by city officials.

In the past two years the city advertising has been published in the insert of The Los Angeles Evening Express and the city job printing has been handled by The Glendale Evening News and other local job printing firms. For the next year, however, the city advertising and legal job printing will be all handled in the plant of The Glendale Evening News at a considerable saving to the taxpayers.

Motion to award the printing contract to The Glendale Evening News was made by Councilman Sam Davis, seconded by Councilman C. E. Kimlin, after City Manager William H. Reeves had reported figures from Controller H. C. Saulsberry showing this newspaper's bid was 7 to 12 per cent lower than the bid of the Los Angeles Express insert on specific items. The city manager also pointed out that as The Glendale Evening News' bid was considerable lower on city advertising than that of the other bidder, and as the greater volume of printing has been and will be city advertising, the bid of this paper was easily proven to be the lowest as a total on combined city advertising and city job work.

Davis Makes Answer

During the discussion, Councilman Davis replying to attacks made upon him by the insert of The Los Angeles Evening Express, pointed out that it was upon his motion that previous bids were thrown out by the council with the resultant saving of 10 per cent or more to the taxpayers and charged that the second bid of The Express insert was higher than its previous bid, taken as a whole.

Councilman Davis also scored the methods of the present manager of The Express insert and concluded by issuing a challenge to the present head of the insert to a public debate in which the councilman intimated he would make some revelations regarding

VERSAILLES' TREATY IS UPHELD

Poincare Unwilling That Any Change Be Made in Reparations

By FRANK E. MASON
For International News Service

PARIS, Oct. 26—The French foreign office announced today that the government accepts Premier Stanley Baldwin's proposal for a reparations conference of experts on condition it is organized under the provisions of the treaty of Versailles and under the auspices of the inter-allied reparations commission.

(Note—Premier Baldwin of England revealed in a speech last night that England is seeking such a conference, and at the same time it was made known in Washington that the United States is willing to participate.)

The foreign office confirmed that France is willing for the inter-allied reparations commission to examine Germany's capacity for indemnity payments, but flatly refuses to permit German delegates to participate in the discussion until normal conditions are restored in the Ruhr.

Right to Fix Payment

Foreign office officials said that, under the Versailles treaty, the commission has the right to examine and fix the amount Germany can pay, also to call experts into conference.

A foreign office statement said, in part:

"France would be very happy if the United States sent an expert to co-operate on the reparations issue."

According to the foreign office, France agrees to the formation of a separate Rhineland republic, although it does not accord with the Versailles treaty. French officials take the view they cannot keep the German population from manifesting its desires if the Berlin government shows incompetency in dealing with conditions.

While the foreign office statement had the outward appearance of a concession, it was pointed out in authoritative

LEGIONNAIRES TO BANQUET TONIGHT

Chairman Don H. Packer of Committee Urges ex-Service Men Attend

Members of Glendale's American Legion Post, No. 127, will assemble at 7 o'clock tonight at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse for the annual banquet and roll call, plans for which have been completed by the entertainment committee working under the direction of Don H. Packer. The other members of the committee are Harley G. Preston and Mitchel Frug.

It is expected that at least 250 members of the post and other veterans of the World War will be present at the banquet, which will be marked by a beautiful and impressive tribute to such members of the post as have answered the last roll call during the past year.

Henry W. Wright, supervisor of the fifth district, will be one of the principal speakers, the other one being P. T. Hayes, chairman of the state hospitalization and rehabilitation bureau. Dwight W. Stephenson, a member of the post, has been selected as toastmaster for the evening.

Musical Numbers

The entertainment that has been provided will include a few musical numbers by Hatch and Hill, the well-known radio favorites; a Hawaiian instrumental quartet, and a male quartet of vocalists.

Chairman Packer of the entertainment committee desires to have it known that former service men, whether members of the American legion or not, will be welcomed at the banquet, and those who have not already obtained tickets for the affair may purchase them at the door for $1.50.

Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, first vice president of the Tuesday Afternoon club, has given her personal attention to the preparation of the menu for the banquet.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Randall of 1146 Western avenue are entertaining as their house guests over the week-end, Mrs. Randall's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Burns of Kansas, Mr. Randall's mother, Mrs. John Randall of Sawtelle and Mrs. J. H. Randall's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Sterlin of Santa Paula.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Marple of 436 West Milford street entertained last Tuesday evening at a family dinner party. Those present included W. H. Marple of Mexico, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Retts and children, Billy and Ellen, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Marple and children Betty and Harry, and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Marple and son Bromley.

Mrs. B. G. Lilly of Beckley, W. Va., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Zahlbouckner of 313 West Lomita avenue, who has been visiting here for several weeks, will leave for her home Saturday morning via the Santa Fe. Mrs. Lilly came here on account of the illness of her father, who sustained an injury in an accident several weeks ago. He is still in the Glendale Sanitarium and Hospital suffering from a fractured hip. Mrs. Lilly is favorably impressed with Glendale and may decide to make her permanent home here in the near future.

Elks' Teeth From Old Indian Mounds Shown

A collection of elk teeth dug from Indian mounds and said to be the largest and finest of its kind in existence, will be on exhibit tomorrow only, in the window of the Lewis Jewelry company, 133 North Brand boulevard, reports F. C. Butler, manager.

The teeth are the collection of J. R. Claiborne, past exalted ruler of the Moscow, Idaho, Elks' lodge, and represents excavations of graves of Crow, Creek, Sioux, Yakima, Nez-Perce, Seminole and Colville Indians. The collection, which is not for sale, is valued at $8000 and required sixty-five years to get together.

Montana, Wyoming, Utah and Idaho were searchced to obtain this valuable collection, states Mr. Butler. The teeth are of different colors, some green, others yellaw and brown, naturally aged and very perfect, numbering in all eighty specimens.

Promise County Aid in Widening Road

City Manager W. H. Reeves Thursday appeared before a meeting of the County Planning commission in Los Angeles, held for the purpose of considering the widening of San Fernando road. Many present held out for a 100-foot road, Mr. Reeves stated, but he and others took the position that a road of this width would be impossible on account of the limited space.

An agreement was finally reached providing for a 66-foot road between curbs. County Supervisor Henry Wright, who was present, declared the county would not contribute one cent of the cost, but when the 66-foot road was agreed upon he promised informally, following the meeting, that the county ought to put up 20 per cent of the money.

Supervisor Wright's generosity is questioned by political observers in the fifth district.

Odd Fellows Enjoy Van Nuys Team Work

There were 200 Odd Fellows gathered last night in the I. O. O. F. hall on West Broadway for conferring the second degree on three candidates by the team from the Van Nuys lodge.

The Van Nuys Odd Fellows journeyed to Glendale over sixty strong and joined with the Glendalians in a lodge meeting and banquet.

Chosen Curator

Mrs. H. W. Yarick was chosen curator yesterday of the new arts and crafts section formed by the Tuesday Afternoon club. The section will be known as Section C and Mrs. John Tate will serve as secretary-treasurer.

Meetings will be held the second and fourth Mondays from 10 till 2 o'clock and this next Monday being a fifth Monday the new section members will hold an extra meeting at the clubhouse, at 10 o'clock in the morning.

Social Events

Tell Of Wedding

Cards announcing the marriage of Miss Lillian Bell Shropshire, daughter of Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Shropshire of 1841 South Brand, to Garfield Jones have been received by their many friends. The ceremony took place Thursday morning, October 25, 1923, at Central Christian church, the pastor, Rev. Clifford A. Cole, officiating.

The altar was beautifully decorated with greenery and baskets of white chrysanthemums. Only immediate members of the families were present, those witnessing the ceremony being Mrs. A. K. Crawford, mother of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. Lester Jones, Lois Wardell, Mrs. Mary E. Shropshire and Miss Birdie Shropshire.

The bride wore her going-away gown of brown beaded crepe de chine with hat to match.

Mr. and Mrs. Jones left immediately after the ceremony for ten days' auto trip.

Mrs. Jones has been identified with the social life of Glendale ever since coming to Glendale, and has been connected with the city treasurer's office, and more recently with the Glendale branch of the Los Angeles Trust & Savings bank.

Mr. Jones is connected with the public service department of the city of Glendale.

Gives Tea Series

The series of benefit teas which are being given by the women's society of the Congregational church are proving to be most enjoyable affairs and very well attended. Mrs. G. Kaemmerling of 1235 North Louise street, was hostess yesterday afternoon, and there were over sixty members and friends of the auxiliary present.

The afternoon's program included short talks by Rev. C. M. Calderwood and the president of the auxiliary Mrs. H. Montague Porter.

Those who assisted in receiving were Mesdames E. R. Naudain, Blake Franklin, Arthur Cross, R. M. Brown, C. M. Calderwood and the hostess, Mrs. G. Kaemmerling.

Mrs. Charles B. Guthrie, who is chairman of the tea committee, states plans are being inaugurated for many interesting programs during the winter months. These benefit teas will be given the fourth Thursday of each month, it is announced.

The next tea will be held at the home of Mrs. C. L. Peckham at 615 North Central avenue.

Historical Study

The study of the life of Christopher Columbus was the subject taken up at the meeting Wednesday afternoon of American Citizenship and Legislation section of the Tuesday Afternoon club of which Miss Ida D. Myers is curator. The story of the life of Columbus was told in a very interesting manner by Mrs. L. E. Richardson.

Another feature of the meeting was the talk made by Miss Ida D. Myers relative to the Constitution and of the events which led up to its drafting.

The rest of the afternoon was devoted to an informal social hour when tea and cakes were served.

The next regular meeting of the section will be held on November 14. At this time the study of the Constitution will be continued and a review of the life of George Washington, Alexander Hamilton and Benjamin Franklin will be given. A cordial invitation is extended to all Tuesday club members who are interested in this study to join the section.

Artistic Program

Delightful vocal numbers by Madame Jadwiga Zebrowska, accompanied by her teacher, Madame Selicia Romanowska, and an interesting talk on "Interior Decoration" by Mrs. Henrietta Capp combined in the splendid meeting yesterday afternoon at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse of the Maids and Young Matrons section.

There was a short business hour with Mrs. Claude G. Putnam, curator, presiding. Plans were made for the community dinner the members and their husbands are to enjoy the night of November 22 at the clubhouse. The women also planned for the handkerchief booth they are to conduct at the society circus. The section now has forty members.

In addressing the club women yesterday Mrs. Capp spoke in general of the principles of interior decoration. She described the various periods of furniture, gave reasons for the study of interior decoration and methods of decorating one's home.

Teachers Dine

One of the most delightful of the social affairs enjoyed by the members of the City Teachers' club this season was the dinner last night at the Sunset Canyon country club. Mrs. Mary Ogden Ryan, president of the organization, presided as hostess. Arrangements were made under the direction of the social chairman, Miss Muriel Wilson.

The guests arrived by motor at 6 o'clock. A delicious four-course dinner was served at 6:45, at small tables, with covers laid for eighty-five. The season's flowers were used in decorations.

Vocal selections by Miss Mildred Hughey and chorus singing of old time and popular songs were among the pleasures of the social evening that followed in the club rooms.

Plan for Bazaar

The work committee of Chapter AH. P. E. O. met yesterday with Mrs. Andrew Stephenson to complete plans for the bazaar to be held November 7 at the home of Mrs. W. W. Worley at 1560 Grand View avenue.

Luncheon—Cards

Mrs. Anna E. Smith of 651 North Central avenue entertained yesterday at a delightful luncheon and card party at Flintridge Country club, the guests being members of the Semi-monthly Card club.

Luncheon was served at 1 o'clock in the clubhouse dining room, and in the afternoon Five-Hundred games were enjoyed in the blue room, where a cheerful fire in the open grate added a touch of hominess to the pleasant scene. Both rooms were prettily decorated with dahlias and chrysanthemums and the Halloween motif was also given expression.

Members present were Mesdames Peter L. Ferry, Mary O'Brien, Charles Rudel, T. J. Keleher, M. J. Brennan, Carrie Schmidt, Ferry, Jr., Monahan, C. Hamilton, Miss Quimm and the hostess. Special guests were Mesdames John Holst, Ralph Knapp, K. H. Farrell, Jesse E. Smith. The guest prize went to Mrs. Jesse E. Smith. Mrs. Peter L. Ferry made the highest score and received the first club prize; the second going to Mrs. C. Hamilton.

Delphians Meet

Alpha Delta chapter, Delphians, Mrs. O. P. Lucas, president, held their regular monthly meeting Thursday morning at the home of Mrs. S. P. Davis, 217 North Orange street. The attendance was very gratifying, a large number of both the Lotus and Ivy groups being present.

Mrs. R. W. Bolton, leader of the Ivy group, was in charge of the program, which was on the subject of Greek drama and theatres. Mrs. Lebcher, who was expected to make the address of the morning, was unable to be present.

The Greek dramas of Sophocles and Euripides were presented. Mrs. W. F. Nash gave the life and writings of Euripides; Mrs. V. Rapp, the story of Antigone; Mrs. E. D. Yard, an account of Medea; Mrs. Wilcox, a dramatic reading, "Medea's Last Word to Her Children;" Mrs. V. Rapp, a reading from "Iphigenia." The discussion which followed the program brought many fine points in the plays considered. The next meeting will be group meetings at the home of members.

Open Guild Hall

The formal opening of the new guild hall at St. Mark's Episcopal church will take place Friday, November 23, when the St. Mark's guild will hold their annual holiday bazaar and give a parish dinner. Plans for the event were made at the guild meeting yesterday.

After a morning work hour and a pot lunch Mrs. A. A. Bassett presided over the meeting.

On the day of the bazaar tea and cake will be served in the afternoon under the direction of Mrs. Speck. Mrs. Kate Goodwin will be general chairman of the evening dinner, with Mrs. Frank England and Mrs. Hill in charge of the kitchen. The Girls' Friendly society will serve and Mrs. B. O. Holbrook and Mrs. J. L. McOmber will have charge of publicity.

Elaborate plans are being made for the various booths to include fancy work, aprons, rugs, quilts, candy and cooked food.

The guild women are to hold a cooked food sale tomorrow morning at the Coker and Taylor store on South Brand boulevard.

Enjoyable Affair

A Halloween social was given last night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Kreisel, 722 South Adams street, by the members of the Young People's society of the Zion Lutheran church.

The Kreisel home was decorated for the occasion in an orange and black color scheme with black cats, jack-o-lanterns and crepe paper.

During the evening games suggestive of the Halloween season were played and later refreshments served.

There were twenty-five members and friends present.

Entertains Club

Mrs. C. H. Challis of 335 North Columbus avenue was hostess to the members of the Pioneer Drive Thimble club at an informal social affair, Wednesday afternoon.

The rooms of the Challis home were artistically decorated suggestive of the Hallowe'en season in a black and orange color scheme.

Those present were Mesdames C. M. Van Dyke, A. R. Chappell, A. J. Shephard, R. E. Frey, H. L. Bullinger, P. V. Potter, Mary Griggs of Glendale, Mrs. Denton of Hollywood and the hostess Mrs. C. H. Challis.

Y. L. I. Dance

Members of the Y. L. I. society are entertaining tonight with a halloween dance at the Knights of Columbus hall, it is announced.

Music for the dancing will be furnished by the Jerry Parker's orchestra. The committee in charge of the affair include, Miss Eva Brehme, chairman, Mesdames Frank Clark, Frank Salmacia, and Misses Mary Margaret Chapman, Helen Godar, and Zilda Cross.

Masquerade Dance

A big Hallowe'en masquerade dance is announced by the Glendale Canadian club for Thursday night, November 1, in the K. P. hall on South Brand boulevard. Kelley's Shrine club orchestra is to furnish the music.

Mr. and Mrs. Western, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Riches and Mr. and Mrs. McIntyre are in charge of the affair.

With Mrs. Kent

Mrs. Roy Kent of 522 North Central venue was hostess yesterday at the regular business meeting of the R. T. W. class of the First Baptist church. Mrs. Roger Bentley, president, directed the meeting.

The afternoon was spent in sewing as the program had been postponed until the November meeting. Mrs. Robert Morrow assisted Mrs. Kent in serving.

The next meeting will be held November 22, with Mrs. George Bentley.

Needlework Club

Mrs. Frank Overton of 439 West Oak street, was hostess on Thursday afternoon to the members of the Navajo Needlework club, when she entertained with a 1 o'clock luncheon and informal afternoon.

The decorations of the Overton home were artistically carried out in the black and orange colors, suggestive of the Hlloween season. A large jack-o-lantern formed the center piece for the luncheon table, and cunning favors in black and orange marked the guests' places.

Those present included Mesdames J. C. Waite, F. A. Koontz, J. D. Root, E. O. Carlisle, L. O. Carlisle, M. C. Fuller and the hostess, Mrs. Frank Overton.

Association Plans to Widen San Fernando

By unanimous vote at its meeting held last night the San Fernando Boulevard Improvement association agreed to widen that highway to 66 feet from curb to curb throughout Glendale, leaving 10 feet on each side for sidewalks, making an 86-foot boulevard.

Steps will immediately be taken to carry this action into effect, states L. H. Wilson, president of the association, who presided over the meting, held at 1526 South San Fernando boulevard.

The principal speaker was Harry E. White, Reo dealer. It was following this report that the vote to widen was taken. No time will be lost in taking the next steps necessary to widen and pave this highway, states Mr. Wilson, reporting that committese will meet at 7:30 o'clock Monday night, October 29, in the offices of B. E. Loper, manager of the Gateway Theatre, for the formation of plans for action.

Business Fine, Says Owl Drug Manager

The business that has been transacted by the Owl Drug company since the firm took over the Spohr Drug company at the corner of Brand and Broadway has been a distinct surprise to the members of the concern and has more than justified their choice of Glendale as the location for a branch store, according to Manager J. J. Luedke.

The Glendale store, Mr. Luedke declares, is already giving two of the Los Angeles branches a close run for supremacy in volume of trade, and he predicts that Glendale will shortly pass the Pasadena store.

During the One Cent sale that is now in progress on Rexall specialties, the amount of business has been far and away ahead of the firm's expectations, breaking all previous records for the local store, as far as they can be checked up.

Hammocks made of grasses or fibre were in common use among the Caribbean Indians when Columbus discovered America.

Russell-Pierce Store Will Feature Rentals

Announcement of an exclusive rental service at cost is made by L. W. Russell of the Russell-Pierce Furniture company, 1529-1533 South San Fernando road.

J. P. Fleckenstine will be in charge of the department, which will aim to meet the needs of both tenant and owner in a central rent bureau where unfurnished houses, apartment, bungalows and flats will be listed, the desire being to ensure better satisfied and more permanent tenants.

"Because of the very nominal charge made for this service, never exceeding $5, no listing solicitor will be employed. Those with unfurnished rental property are therefore urged to get in touch with Mr. Fleckenstine at once and list their holdings, whether occupied or vacant.

Hunger Strike Title Goes to Ex-Policeman

LONDON, Oct. 26.—The world champion hunger striking title will probably have to be handed to ex-Inspector John Syme, formerly of the London police force.

Syme was dismissed from the police force in 1910 and ever since then he has been attempting to attract public attention to his case. He frequently makes incendiary speeches before Buckingham Palace and does other things that annoy the police, who are forced to arrest him. Every time he is arrested he initiates a hunger strike.

Syme now has twenty-six hunger strikes to his record.

Porto Santo People Lacking in Vanity

LONDON, Oct. 26.—Vanity is apparently unknown at Porto Santo Island, near Madeira, for, according to a statement by Dr. Grabbam at the British Medical association there is not a single tooth brush or looking glass there and the women are entirely without vanity.

HOWE WILL TELL LIST OF ARTISTS

Benefit Committee Summons Local Organizations to Meeting Monday

The entire list of artists who are to appear on the benefit performance in aid of the dependents of the fire victims, to be given at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse on November 6, will be announced at a meeting that has been called for next Monday morning at 10 o'clock at the Chamber of Commerce rooms.

At that time Manager W. A. Howe, of the Glendale theatre, chairman of the program committee, will be able to give the complete list of the stars who have been booked by Miss Louise Dresser, who is working enthusiastically to make the benefit the greatest possible.

Representatives of every local organization have been asked to attend the meeting Monday morning, in order that they may be in a position to aid in the sale of tickets for the performance to the fullest extent.

Members of the committee, which met this morning, are stressing the fact that only 763 tickets will be sold, sufficient to fill the seating accommodation of the Tuesday Afternoon club, and those who desire to attend the benefit and to witness the performance staged by the stars who will be on the program, are urged to secure their tickets as soon as possible.

A meeting of the ticket committee, of which Chalmer Day is chairman, is being held this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Chamber of Commerce.

17-Year-Old Boy Tells Conditions in Prison

fined $4 by the kangaroo court for "being in the tank without permission." When he did not produce the money he was robbed of 18 cents change and a more thorough search ordered. When they started to strip the youth, with deputy sheriffs looking on and laughing, he became exasperated and fought back.

The Mexican "judge" knocked him out for the count. Others took opportunity to lambaste the boy about. He was later told to keep his mouth shut, but he was given a diet of bread and water for his belligerency.

One of the cruelties alleged to have been practiced was the use of a thick strap, studded with rivets, which was kept soaked in water. Prisoners were beaten with this strap for minor misdemeanors of "jail etiquette," such as failing to give attention to "orders," etc.

Cholos and Negroes Rule

Money taken away from the "whites," as all more or less respectable prisoners are known, is used to feed the cholo and negro kangaroo court officials, according to the allegations made by the boy. It is supposed to be used for the purchase of smoking tobacco.

During the night sleep is impossible with those of criminal tendencies, not to speak of utter degenerates, throwing steaming towels on prisoners seeking to sleep. It behooves a person to stay awake, the boy declares.

And when one desires to communicate with friends or relatives, outside of visiting hours, the jailers to whom telephone messages are entrusted, report back that "the parties do not answer."

Perhaps a little "sugar" would sweeten their disposition, if Sheriff Traeger's orders already have not accomplished the result.

great interest in the progress of this city.

Master of Lightning

Only a few months ago Dr. Steinmetz invented miniature thunder and lightning. This was considered one of his masterpieces. So real was the lightning that under the hand of Dr. Steinmetz, small trees erected in his laboratory could be demolished.

The electrical wizard was forced to take to his bed a week ago last Saturday following his return from a trip to the Pacific coast. At that time it was said he was suffering from a heavy cold and exhaustion, believed to have been brought on by his cross-continental trip.

Dr. Steinmetz, who was in his 59th year, was regarded as the foremost electrical expert in the world next to Thomas A. Edison.

Dreamed of Universal Power

It was the life dream of Dr. Steinmetz to make electricity the universal fuel power of America. He was constantly experimenting with this end in view.

Dr. Steinmetz was the author of many books, including "Theory and Calculation of Alternating Current Phenomena," "Theoretical Elements of Electrical Engineering," and "General Lectures of Electrical Engineering."

of the Reichswehr in Berlin, threatened to use force if the strikers pursued their efforts to prevent the printing of money.

Strike at Frankfort

A dispatch from Frankfort said the communists had called a general strike effective at 10 o'clock this morning.

One-third of the workers in the Ruhr were idle today and it was predicted that the balance would be out of work within a week.

Fresh disorders were reported. Three persons were killed and many wounded in rioting at Hamburg.

It was learned from an authoritative source that Chancellor Stresemann's conference at Hagen yesterday came just in time to prevent a stampede for independent action on reparations.

The situation was summed up as follows:

Summary of Events

"The Rhinelanders, including the residents of the Ruhr, desire to remain good Germans, but as Germans within the German state they wish to be known."

After Chancellor Stresemann, Premier Braun of Prussia and other ministers had finished talking at Hagen, Rhineland delegates made emphatic and courageous statements.

After demanding to know what Berlin contemplated, the Rhinelanders submitted their own plans. They announced they already had a committee of fifteen persons to put the plans into effect.

Widow Store Keeper Appeals for Justice

Mrs. Louise Appenfelder, 401 South Pacific avenue, appeared last night before the city council city to support her previously presented petition that a business district be declared to include the property adjoining the present site of her store.

Mrs. Appenfelder recently sold her lot at 401 South Pacific avenue to the school board, and planned to move the building to the lot adjoining it on the south, if it could be classed as a business district. The Pacific avenue Parent-Teachers' association protested the petition that was presented at that time, embodying in their protest the statement that Mrs. Appenfelder was selling an inferior grade of candy to the school children.

In her reply last night Mrs. Appenfelder asserted that she was handling candy made by the leading manufacturers of the country—the same kind of candy, she stated, as that sold by the school lunchroom to the pupils.

No definite action was taken by the council last night, the matter being left over until the Pacific avenue Parent-Teachers' association can have an opportunity to present further evidence or protests against the declaration of a business zone, as requested by Mrs. Appenfelder.

Mrs. Appenfelder, who is a widow, told the council last night that the little store that she has been conducting and that she is anxious to continue, offers the only means of livelihood for herself and her aged and invalid mother.

Wants Applicants for Clerk-Carrier's Post

Postmaster D. Ripley Jackson is desirous of securing applications for entry to the examination that is to be held shortly for clerk-carrier in the local office, and states that successful entrants are practically assured of being put to work almost immediatey after the results of the examination are known. Postmaster Jackson is anxious especially to obtain applications from men who have had previous postoffice experience and who realize the advantages of employment in the government service.

Co-operative Selling Gains in Southland

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 26.—Co-operative cotton marketing associations in the Southern states have added 69,005 members during the past two months, according to a report given out by the American Cotton Growers' Exchange in Dallas.

The report by states shows that in members signed since July of this year Georgia leads with 6,625. Texas ranks next to Georgia in the campaign which began on that date with 6,571. Oklahoma ranks third with 6,082.

Leaders in the organization express the optimistic view that this is only the beginning of a campaign that will engulf almost every cotton state in the Southland.

Queer 'Murder' Case Solved by Physician

HARVARD, Ill., Oct. 26.—Harvard's great murder mystery has been solved and the city has settled back to the peace from which the finding of a man's head in a local dump aroused it. Two boys playing in the dump made the ghastly discovery. Police were at once called and the county coroner was summoned. The splendid state of preservation indicated that the man had not been long dead.

Dr. N. L. Seelye, a local eye, ear, nose and throat specialist, dispelled the murder theory by informing the police that he had had the head for a number of years for experimental purposes and that it had been thrown away by persons cleaning out his barn.

Urging Obregon's Backers to Unite On His Successor

GEN. JOSE CASTRO

Gen. Jose Castro, governor of the state of Durango, has sent a circular letter to all state governors throughout Mexico as well as prominent supporters of the revolution of 1920 which made Obregon president, urging them to choose one candidate for the presidency to prevent the overthrowing of the present regime. The election is over a year off.

MINERS HOPE TO HARVEST WEALTH

Aged Prospctors Preserve in Belief That Gold Will Enrich Camp

GARDINER, Mont., Oct. 26.—Joining the rapidly increasing "ghost cities" of the west, Cooke, Mont., has dwindled to a handful of tenacious prospectors who still talk of the millions they expect to take from the hills.

Nestling in a natural amphitheatre of massive mountains that form the Absaroka range, east of here and on the northern boundary of Yellowstone National Park, Cooke is one of those picturesque mountain towns that enjoyed "boom time" prosperity half-century ago.

Boasting a population of nearly 2500 in the early 80's, there are less than a hundred residents now, and of these the majority have passed the three score and ten mark in age.

Came in Youth

From young men, strong and vigorous, full of high spirits and enthusiasm, they have become gray-bearded, bent and crippled from exposure and hardships; deaf, many of them—veritable Rip Van Winkles—with little left of their youth but their fine qualities, the characteristic traits of the old-time prospectors—honesty, simplicity, dry humor and a strong sense of justice. Hope has never died in them, and never will so long as breath remains in their bodies.

There are specimens of ore ranged carefully on every window sill, piled beside doorways and on sidewalks, and it is probable that there is no inhabitant in Cooke who could not produce a "specimen" from his coat pocket.

Some of the old timers put in much of the summer in the mountains and frequent "blasts" break the stillness, showing that the old prospectors are "carrying on," living on hope and bacon, dreaming of the wealth that is to reward their patience, despite the fact that some experts have condemned Cooke as "spotty," and declaring that the ore lies in pockets with too much barren rock intervening to make its working profitable.

of the city's water mains, this will be available, through emergency connections, for the protection of adjacent districts against fire. The letter was referred to the fire department and City Clerk A. J. Van Wie was instructed to write a letter of thanks.

A petition requesting that a corral be removed from the neighborhood was presented by residents of the 800 block on Raleigh street. The fire chief, chief of police and health officer were instructed to investigate the complaint and report to the council.

Sleepy Hollow Dance Orchestra to Play

Roy Fortier, chairman of the big Halloween dance the Glendale Legion post is going to give tomorrow night in the post hall on East Broadway, is happy to announce that Ichabod Crane has all his pieces of his "Sleepy Hollow" orchestra all tuned up for the finest jazz dance music Glendale Legionnaires and guests have ever danced to.

Lou Ganger is assisting Mr. Fortier with plans for the dance and together they have worked out an elaborate scheme of decoration and entertainment.

Insane Patient Had 'No-Clothes' Complex

LIMA, Ohio, Oct. 26.—After sitting stark naked all day, beneath a hot sun, atop a rail fence, Ralph Hunt, afflicted with an anticlothes complex, was captured by Lima police near Yoder and returned to the Lima State Hospital for criminal insane. The capture ended Hunt's second "back-to-nature" escapade within a month.

Runs, Half Clad, From 'Attack' of Germans

LOWELL, Mass., Oct. 26.—A disturbance was caused in Kearney Square when Michael Hickey rushed from his home scantily clad shouting loudly that 8,000 Germans with fixed payonets were charging on his home and he feared for the life of his wife.

Hickey was taken to police headquarters, where he was booked for safe keeping.

GHOSTLY AIR AT HALLOWEEN HOP

Shuddery Shivering Shakes Guests of Community Service Dance

Ghosts, black cats and jack-o-lanterns galore and fanciful, and weird-costumed guests, added to the festivity of the dance last night given under the auspices of the Community Service organization in the ballroom of the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse.

As the guests arrived they were greeted by two ghosts, which gave everyone a spooky shiver. The ballroom was beautifully decorated in the Halloween colors with festoons of black and orange crepe paper hanging gracefully from the ceiling. The chandeliers, which were covered with orange paper, radiated a soft glow creating an unusually pleasing effect. The tea room was the center of interest because of its fortune-telling booths and other appropriate Halloween features. Mrs. Mae Rosenberg was in charge of the fortune wheel which caused considerable amusement, and Mrs. C. C. Cooper and Mrs. C. W. Houston represented ghost fortune tellers.

Favors at Dance

A feature of the evening's entertainment was the favor dance, when horns, pumpkin rattles and other favors were distributed to the dancers.

Rosy-cheeked apples and punch were served during the evening by the refreshment committee, of which Miss Ruth Ryan was chairman.

There were over a hundred couples present, most of whom were dressed in fanciful and appropriate costumes.

Music for the dancing was furnished by the California Oriole orchestra.

Mrs. J. R. Case and E. R. Tucker were in charge of the general arrangements for the affair, assisted by Mrs. E. S. McKee, chairman of stunt committee; Mrs. W. A. Kulp, Mrs. Mae Rosenberg, Mrs. E. A. Troth and Mrs. C. C. Cooper. Miss Bessie Hale was in charge of the decorating committee.

Patrons and patronesses for the affair were Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Eastman, Mr. and Mrs. Val Hollister, Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Hazelton, Mr. and Mrs. William Reeves, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ayars, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Cooper, Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson and W. E. Hewitt.

Claim School Built in Wrong Location

says school boards can't do any swapping.

The Way Is Clear

Well, why not sell the two useless easterly lots and buy a couple more the other side of the building? Correct, Mr. Shean.

M. S. Collins owns the two desired lots and the school board found him willing to exchange for the other two, but to make everything legal they had to first sell Mr. Collins the school lots, and then buy from him the two they needed. What if Mr. Collins had chosen to make some profit on the second transaction?

So the Montrose school will be, when finished, two lots west of where it would have been if the first unit had not been built on the two westerly lots, instead of the two easterly lots.

Very simple, and the trustees are glad that's all straightened out.

J. R. Thorpe Presents Fish to News Staff

Today is Friday—fish day—and several members of The Glendale Evening News staff have eaten, are eating, or will eat mountain trout, for J. R. Thorpe, sportsman, owner of the Montrose Riding Stables, visited this office this morning and left some beautiful specimens of hand fed fish.

Mr. Thorpe is a member of the Rainbow Angling club, which maintains a fisherman's paradise in the mountains back of Redlands. There the fish are trained to leap into the pockets of club members. So it was easy for Mr. Thorpe to return to Glendale after a few hours in the mountains and distribute close to fifty fish among his friends.

Italian Diplomat Gets Praise For Tact at Geneva

SIGNOR SALANDRA

Signor Salandra, Italian League of Nations representative, is being commended for the masterful way in which he clothed Premier Mussolini's blunt stand on the Greek situation in a mantle of peacefulness. His tact probably prevented serious difficulties.

Poincare Won't Change Reparations Treaty

quarters that the French government was NOT receding from its original position upon reparations.

Members of his entourage quoted Premier Poincare as saying he was willing to "go to the utmost limits within the Versailles treaty, but was unwilling to concede any of the terms in that pact.

Plan Paves Way for U. S. to Re-Enter World Disputes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—France's "conditional acceptance" of the Baldwin plan for an international conference to deal with German reparations, paves the way for a fresh attempt on the part of all the world war powers to settle this controversial issue, and the re-entry of the United States on the European stage at the most critical time since the armistice.

"It paves the way." This was as far as officials here would go today in predicting the outcome of the "exchange of views" between London and Washington.

David Lloyd George expressed an intense interest today in the recent exchange of notes between Great Britain and the United States on the reparations problem, but aside from expressing the hope that a basis would be found for new negotiations on the capacity of Germany to pay, he declined to commit himself until he had studied the terms under which France agrees to enter a new conference.

Lloyd George today paid homage to America's war dead by placing a wreath upon the grave of the unknown soldier in Arlington national cemetery and later visited the tomb of George Washington at Mount Vernon.

LONDON, Oct. 26.—Press and public today approved Premier Stanley Baldwin's appeal for an international conference to discuss the reparations issue.

The fact that Secretary of State Hughes has expressed America's willingness to enter into such a meeting was emphasized.

Colorado Street Folks Ask Ornamental Lights

Property owners on Colorado street Thursday night presented their petition to the city council, asking for the creation of an improvement district to provide for an ornamental lighting system, from San Fernando road to the city limits on the east.

The petition was signed by owners representing 48.64 per cent of the frontage.

The use of two light single standards, according to the zoning plan of the city, is suggested. The standards are to be of cast iron and pressed steel, similar to the design of standards on Glendale avenue.

This important project was referred to City Attorney Ray L. Morrow and City Engineer Ben F. Dupuy with instructions that proceedings be prepared.

It is thought a month or six weeks will elapse before these officials are ready to bring the matter before the council again.

'Slicker' Sells China, Forgets to Deliver

A "slicker" has been preying upon Glendale housewives during the past few days according to complaints made to the police Thursday afternoon. A man who signs his name R. K. Wells has been taking orders for beautifully decorated dishes, taking $1 with the order, which is never delivered, it is said. He claims to represent the Pacific Decorating company, 1020 South Olive street, Los Angeles. The police say there is no such company.

TUJUNGA

LEGION TO HOLD HALLOWEEN DANCE

Overalls, Gingham Gowns to Be Worn at Social Function, Oct. 31

Following the usual summer suspension of social activities the American Legion, Post 250, and Auxiliary of Tujunga, are making plans for the winter.

The first social will be a big barn dance in celebration of Halloween at Legion hall Wednesday, October 31.

A program is being prepared by the committee that will include the regulation Halloween refreshments—pumpkin pie, cider, home-made doughnuts and other things. Games will also form part of the evening's pastime.

Store Clothes Barred

Overalls and gingham will be the guiding rule for dress. Any who attend in "store clothes" will be fined. The Auxiliary needs money to fit up the south piazza of Legion hall for a social room so no opportunity will be overlooked that will add to the fund.

Plans are being made to hold weekly dances again, either at Legion hall or at the Garden of the Moon pavilion.

At a regular meeting of the Post, tentative plans were made to hold a turkey shoot November 25, the Sunday before Thanksgiving. Details will be worked out and the site selected will be announced later.

Dr. Smith Recovers

Dr. Virginia Smith, who has been critically ill following a cerebral hemorrhage, is reported as gaining strength again.

During the first two weeks of the current month twenty-two applications for water meters were filed with the Haines Canyon Water company. These figures indicate an increase in home building in Tujunga.

Miss Juanita Causey opened her class in art work at the Fine Arts Guild studio with five students in attendance. Drawing and color work will be covered in classes to be held Tuesday and Friday evenings.

Illegal hunting, due in most cases to ignorance of the law, is being prosecuted by the county game warden's office, according to James Blaine, deputy county game warden for the Tujunga district, who has issued the following notice.

The county forester, Stuart J. Flintham, has requested that we direct public attention to the fact that his office is energetically prosecuting all violations of the state and county game laws. Notwithstanding the deer season is closed, there is continued illegal hunting. Not only does this apply to deer but to smaller animals and protected birds.

Law Is Specific

The law, relative to open seasons, to what may and may not be shot and the restrictions respecting the use of firearms in the Federal forest reserves, is specific. The penalty for infringement is very drastic.

Since October 7 various Los Angeles county courts have imposed fines aggregating $1,555 and jail sentences, operative and suspended, totaling seventeen years.

Copies of the California fish and game law may be obtained at the local deputy warden's office and every possible assistance will be given to those sportsmen who are willing to cooperate in the enforcement of regulations defined for their protection.

Chicagoans Buy Home

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ford of Morgan Park, Chicago, who have been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Smith in Tujunga, have purchased a home in Tujunga. They have returned to Chicago but will soon return to their new California home.

Lewis Hymers, cartoonist and advertising specialist of Los Angeles, has bought a home on Palm street between El Centro and Los Angeles streets. It is one of the stone cottages built by Don Wieman.

John F. Watson, who purchased the Edward McCarty home, let a contract to P. L. Foote, contractor, for a substantial addition to the place.

Mrs. M. P. Cogswell of Ohio has bought a lot in Miller's De Luxe subdivision on Summit avenue.

W. J. Buckley has been improving his El Centro street property with stone curbs and a sidewalk.

Democrats Select H. L. Whitfield As Mississippi Chief

HENRY L. WHITFIELD

Democrats of Mississippi have nominated Henry L. Whitfield, former president of Mississippi College for Women, for governor. Inasmuch as Dem nomination is equivalent to election in Mississippi Whitfield is considered "in."

The Glendale News Gets City Printing

which The Glendale Evening News has said nothing, although importuned to do so.

When the vote was called for on awarding the contract to The Glendale Evening News, Councilmen W. T. Horn and Asa Hall did not vote and Mayor Spencer Robinson, Councilmen Kimlin and Davis voted in favor of this paper's bid. Councilman Horn said he was of the opinion the lowest bid was still high.

John R. Grey, in the audience, asked the question of the council as to what had been paid out for city job work the past year. He said the figures had been asked for before, but not yet received. He was told the figures were not yet available.

Councilman Hall questioned who had ordered the advertising and job work combined and Councilman Davis said it had been discussed in the committee of the whole.

Councilman Horn declared he was in favor of combining the two, for by that method money could be saved the taxpayers.

City Seeks Service

In answer to questions as to why the job work had not, in the past two years, been given to the concern doing the city advertising publishing, City Clerk A. J. Van Wie said the job work had been offered to that concern, but it could not, or would not, give service and the city had been compelled, in order to get the work done, to offer it to The Glendale Evening News, where it was handled.

City Engineer B. F. DuPuy pointed out that too many errors were permitted to appear in the city work and urged that an improvement in proof reading be called for.

A. T. Cowan, publisher of The Glendale Evening News, assured the council his plant would give first class service and that the provision of the city that all printing shall appear together would be followed out.

Councilman Horn announced he desired to be recorded as having voted to award the contract to The Glendale Evening News and Councilman Hall said the same, so the contract comes to this newspaper by unanimous vote of the council and with a saving to the taxpayers of at least 7 to 12 per cent.

Kiwanis to Direct Halloween Activity

High jinks are assured Glendale boys and girls on Hallowe'en, when, sponsored by the local Kiwanis club, young folks of all grades will mass in costume at Harvard and Louise streets at 7:15 o'clock that night and parade up Brand boulevard to Wilson avenue and back down to Colorado street, whereafter they will proceed to Moyse field for the lighting of a monster bonfire, it was brought out at today's noon luncheon meeting of the Glendale Kiwanis club, held at the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse.

The date of the Hallowe'en party is, of course, as everyone knows, Wednesday, October 31. Prizes will be awarded to the boy and girl with the most appropriate costume in each of the following groups:

First group—Children up to and including third grade.

Second group—Fourth, fifth and sixth grades.

G. & M. ENGINE IS ADVERTISING CITY

Big Electric Locomotive on Last Lap of Journey Across Continent

The big electric engine for the Glendale & Montrose Railway company's lines is on the last lap of its transcontinental journey, bearing banners sixteen feet long with the words: "I am on my way to Glendale, California—the fastest growing city in America," reports Preston L. Hatch, general manager of the company.

A letter from William Nagel, trainman of the Glendale & Montrose railway, just received by Mr. Hatch, states that the locomotive left Pittsburg Tuesday, October 23. It should arrive here in two weeks.

Mr. Nagel has accompanied the engine from Atlantic City, N. J., where it was a feature of the Electrical Exhibition from October 8 to 12. He was sent from Glendale by officials of the company to guard this valuable piece of machinery on its long trip overland. In his letter he states that the engine attracted a great deal of attention at the exposition and has been a wonderful advertisement for this city.

"At every stop, Mr. Nagel distributes Glendale literature furnished by the Chamber of Commerce," says Mr. Hatch. "Should even a small fraction of this literature fall upon fertile ground and germinate future Glendalians, many who have seen the new locomotive pass through their cities and towns this year will be riding behind it next year, over the picturesque lines of the Glendale & Montrose Railway company."

The cost of the banners accompanying the locomotive was met by the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, through the advertising committee.

City Employes Add $201 to Relief Fund

thank them for volunteering their services."

A letter inclosing a check for $10 for the relief fund was received this morning from Kate H. Wright of 1644 Golden Gate avenue, who owns property in the district swept by the hill fire.

Writes Appreciation

A heartfelt expression of appreciation was received this morning by The Glendale Evening News from Mrs. J. W. McGahan, whose husband, Joseph W. McGahan, met a tragic death Saturday afternoon October 13, fighting the fire on the northeast hills. Mrs. McGahan's note is also acknowledgment of the receipt of a check for $100 taken from the relief fund by Mrs. F. S. Card, chairman of local relief of the Tuesday Afternoon club, and presented to Mrs. McGahan to meet present needs. Mrs. McGahan writes:

"I wish to acknowledge the receipt of the check for $100 left with me this evening. And may I ask that you will convey my sincere thanks to the public and the many organizations that have shown such wonderful sympathy for me in my great loss.

"I cannot express all that is in my heart, but please believe me that I am indeed grateful, and I appreciate the sympathy expressed for me in my sorrow fully as much as the financial assistance given.

"Joe's father and mother ask me to include them in asking that you convey our appreciation of all that is being done in memory of our loved one, who was a good husband and a loving son."

New Subscriptions

Additional subscriptions to the relief fund being raised through The Glendale Evening News for the families of Clarence Edwards and Joseph W. McGahan are being received at this office. Subscriptions received since yesterday are:

FOUR TOTS PERISH

STUBENVILLE, Ohio, Oct. 26.—Four children of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Andrewski were burned to death when their home at Dillonvale was destroyed by fire today.

Prematurely Born Babe Kept Alive As Science Marvels

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—Scores of physicians attending the American College of Surgeons' conference here went to the South Shore hospital to marvel at the way a prematurely born baby weighing three pounds and three ounces was being kept alive with an electric light and milk from a medicine dropper.

The boy, born to Mrs. Gertrude Schiller, is kept warm by the light burning under the crib coverlet. The little glutton gulps down half a teaspoonful of prepared milk at each meal. Doctors say it will live.

THOUSANDS VISIT STONE MONUMENT

Site of South's Memorial Is Mecca for Tourists From 42 States

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 26.—Indicating the widespread interest manifested in the gigantic statue which is being carved in Stone Mountain, near here, 12,534 visitors, representing forty-two states in the union and eleven foreign countries, registered their names in the visitors' tablet during August.

This number represents only about one-third of the total number visiting the mountain during that month, according to the executive committee of the Stone Mountain Monumental association. A huge memorial is being carved on one side of the mountain under the direction of Gutzon Borglum, noted sculptor.

Since the registration book was opened June 1 visitors have come from all sections of the world to watch him work. Spectators surround the mammoth stone of granite day and night.

Foreign countries represented in August registration were: Hawaiian Islands 2, China 2, Brazil 1, England 7, Porto Rica 3, France 5, Canada 2, Australia 1, Labarador 1, Ireland 1, Scotland 2.

Although a corps of workers are busy day and night, it is estimated that nine years will be required to complete the mammoth monument.

Bobbed Hair Blasts Home's Tranquility

SOUTHEND, Eng., Oct. 26.—Bobbed hair ended Reginald Naude's happy married life.

Reginald, who claims to be an international opera singer, was haled into court on a non-support charges. He told the court that has wife was "an empty vague waster," had told him 400 lies, painted her face and bobbed her hair, while he preferred long-haired women.

Mrs. Naude said her husband refused to live with her because she had bobbed her hair.

The judge ordered Reginald to contribute $3.50 weekly to his wife's support.

Halloween Motif for Tuesday Afternoon Club

Halloween Jack O'Lanterns are going to grin broad grins of happiness next Tuesday night in the gay revelry of Tuesday Afternoon club members and guests, who are to meet for a big dinner, followed by dancing and cards.

Elaborate and brilliant decorations are being arranged by Mrs. Estelle Brain of the Glendale Book Store, and according to Mrs. A. H. Montgomery, chairman of ways and means, who is in general charge of the affair, Mrs. Brain is going to outdo any decorative feature yet seen at a Tuesday Afternoon club affair.

Mrs. Montgomery is in charge of the dinner, Mrs. George T. Smith of the dancing, Mrs. W. F. MacPherson of the bridge tables, and Mrs. Allan Fairchild of the five-hundred games.

Reservations for the affair can be made at the club house.

13 Fellow Workers Surprise Logan Hugo

Logan L. Hugo of 536 East Elk street was given a surprise party last night by thirteen fellow employes associated with Mr. Hugo as carpenters and janitors of the city schools.

An informal social evening was enjoyed, during which Mr. Hugo was presented with a lovely leather traveling bag by his friends in token of good fellowship. Mr. Hugo has resigned as carpenter of the Glendale schools and is going into the printing business with his brother, Clinton J. Hugo.

The affair had been planned and arranged for by C. E. Evans of the Grand View school.

Pasadena Woman Pays for Reckless Driving

A $25 fine or ten days in jail problem confronted Imogene Spirito of 896 North Raymond avenue, Pasadena, this morning, when she appeared before Judge Harry W. Chase in Glendale police court to answer to the charge of driving her car recklessly.

When Judge Chase announced a $25 fine the fair feminine lawbreaker found she only had $15 in her purse. She had to smile.

From her quandry as to what to do she was rescued by the consideration of Judge Chase, who remitted $10 from the imposed fine, making it $15 to fit the young woman's pocketbook and allow her to return to her home.

URGE CHANGE IN IMMIGRANT LAW

Ohioan Advocates Amendment Changing Ellis Island and Quota Basis

LIMA, Ohio, Oct. 26.—Declaring conditions at Ellis Island are "terrible" and asserting that there should be greater restriction of immigrants who display little or no desire to become citizens of the United States, Congressman John L. Cable, Lima, has announced his intention of proposing a number of amendments to the federal immigration laws at the next session of congress.

Congressman Cable's proposed amendments, it was stated, will include:

Change In Quota

Changing the quota basis for admitting aliens to the United States. The quota now is determined by the number of aliens of any given nationality residing in the United States. The proposed amendment will provide that the quota be determined by the number of naturalized aliens of each nationality. This, it was pointed out, would encourage admission of persons desiring to become American citizens.

Provision for an addition to the immigrant station at Ellis Island. Congressman Cable declared that an immigrant family was kept six weeks in a corridor at the station because there was no room for the family elsewhere. They were denied sunlight and fresh air because there were not enough guards to watch them while they exercised in the open air.

More Funds Sought

A larger appropriation. Congressman Cable stated that more money to provide proper care for immigrants is nesessary. An adequate and well-paid force of inspectors and public health officers also, is needed, he said.

Issuance of quota certificates abroad by American consuls, so that no immigrant will be compelled to return to his native country because of excess quota; giving American consuls absolute power to refuse vising passports when the applicant is clearly inadmissible; admitting wives of American citizens outside the quota; requiring that children shall be considerel of the same nationality either parent; requiring every prospective immigrant to present, with his passport, for vising a certificate of a local doctor as to condition of health, and a certificate from local police headquarters as to his, or her, record and reputation; providing for additional penalties for transportation of inadmissible aliens.

Aged Have Whooping Cough, Says Doctor

MARTINS FERRY, Ohio, Oct. 26.—Persons who believe that whooping cough is only a childhood disease are wrong, according to a local physician. He reported that one of his patients—a woman, aged 88 years—is ill with whooping cough, having contracted it during a recent epidemic among children. This is said to be the third time the aged woman has been afflicted with whooping cough.

Texan Would Divorce Correspondence Bride

BOSTON, Oct. 26.—Charles W Albert, of Malden, has filed a petition for divorce.

Albert testified his bride left him on his wedding day five years ago and that he has never seen her since. She went to Hartford, Conn., and wrote him a letter once a week saying she would not live with him, preferring to be a "correspondence and platonic bride."

Per capita fire loss in the United States last year was the greatest in the world.

When we meditate over our stormy past we deliberately injure our future.

On motion of Councilman Horn, seconded by Councilman Hall, map of Tract No. 6683, same being outside the City, was approved.

Lomita Court

A property owner on Lomita Court appeared before the Council and reported that the Public Service Department had placed poles in front of the lots on that street instead of in the rear as per easement granted. On motion of Councilman Hall, seconded by Councilman Horn, City Manager and Superintendent of Plant & Production were instructed to investigate.

Improve Niodrara Drive

Petition signed by property owners, asking that Niodrara Drive be improved between Colina Drive and Wabasso Way with cobblestone curbs, 3 inches macadam, sewer lines, water and lighting system, was read. City Engineer reported that petition represented 56.7 per cent of the frontage. On motion of Councilman Kimlin, seconded by Councilman Davis, City Attorney and City Engineer were instructed to draft the necessary proceedings.

Colorado Street Lights

Petition signed by property owners, asking that Colorado street be improved with an ornamental lighting system from San Fernando road to East city limits, excepting that portion already lighted, using two-light and single light standards according to zoning plan, standards to be cast iron and pressed steel, the same design as adopted for Glendale avenue, said work to be installed under the "Vrooman Act," was read. City engineer reported that petition represented 43.64 per cent. On motion of Councilman Davis, seconded by Councilman Kimlin, the city attorney and city engineer were instructed to draft the necessary proceedings.

Corrals on Raleigh Street

A protest signed by property owners in the 800 block on Raleigh street, asking that the council take some steps to remove a corral in that neighborhood, on motion of Councilman Kimlin, seconded by Councilman Davis, the matter was referred to the fire chief, chief of police and health officer for investigation and report.

Maple Street Reservoir

Petition signed by property owners in the 800 block on Raleigh street, protesting against the unsightly reservoir, owned by the city, was read. On motion of Councilman Kimlin, seconded by Councilman Horn, same was referred to superintendent of plant and production for investigation and report.

Gasoline Ordinance

Communication from the K. B. K. Supply company, protesting a proposed gasoline ordinance, was ordered filed for consideration.

Forest Lawn Memorial Park

Communication from the Forest Lawn Memorial park, calling attention to their equipment and forces, and assuring the council that they were ready to answer any call where life and property is in danger, was read. On motion of Councilman Davis, seconded by Councilman Kimlin, communication was ordered filed.

Extension of Time

On motion of Councilman Kimlin, E. L. Fleming was granted an extension of thirty days on his contract for the improvement of Kenneth Road.

Telephone Tolls

A communication from city attorney, in which he reported receipt of an opinion rendered by the railroad commission, dismissing the complaint of the city of Glendale against the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph company, and denying any reduction in rates, was read. On motion of Councilman Kimlin, seconded by Councilman Horn, same was ordered filed.

Printing Contract

On motion of Councilman Davis, seconded by Councilman Kimlin, the bid of The Glendale Evening News for city printing and publishing, for the year 1923-24 was accepted and all other bids rejected by the following vote:

Ayes: Hall, Horn, Davis, Kimlin, Robinson.
Noes: None.
Absent: None.

General Sewer System

Moved by Councilman Hall, seconded by Councilman Horn, that contract with Burns & McDonald Engineering company, for services as engineers in the general city sewer system, be approved.

On motion of Councilman Hall, action approving contract with the Burns & McDonald Engineering company as engineers for the general city sewer system, was rescinded. Vote as follows: Ayes; Horn, Davis, Kimlin, Robinson; Noes: Hall. Absent; None.

Calf's Feet, Head and Gait Resemble Bear's

ATHOL, Mass., Oct. 26.—A freak calf with front feet like those of a bear is the property of H. Zack, of North Orange, a cattle dealer.

The animal, which is three months old, has front feet almost exactly like a bear's, and its head also resembles that of a bear. When the animal walks it lopes like a bear.

Volumes could be written on the subject of "opportunity." It is one of the queerest elements that enters into the complex existence of present-day Americans. It means everything and it means nothing, just as it is handled by different persons. One person's failure to recognize it, for instance, proves another's chance. Most of us claim it has passed us by, or we were away from home when opportunity knocked. And so it goes.

Look back into the history of the successful men and women of today and you will find that they answered every call of opportunity—they did not overlook a single bet. Those who sit with folded hands waiting for opportunity to walk in and hit them over the head with a stuffed club will never get what is termed "the good things in life." It takes initiative, hustle, ambition, resourcefulness and stick-to-it-iveness to win success. This world does not owe you a living, and it is not going to give it to you—you have to get out and hustle for it.

Once to Every Person

Once in a blue moon an opportunity comes along that shouts out its presence from the housetops for all to hear. Those who slumber then have only themselves to blame. Such an opportunity is calling you right now. "The Glendale Evening News'

PROTEST GLENDALE SCHOOL CHILDREN'S HEALTH RULES

Vigorously protesting against this city's health rules requiring a permit to re-enter the school when pupils have been absent five days on account of illness, Mrs. Dora A. Stearns, president of the Public School Protective league of Los Angeles, yesterday appeared before Superintendent R. D. White and City Health Officer Dr. G. Kaemmerling with the request that the rule be abrogated or at least modified.

She met with just as vigorous opposition. During the interview Superintendent White said:

Law Is Cited

"The state law prohibits a physical examination being made by school authorities, where parents submit written objection, but we maintain that the examination we make could not be termed a physical examination. Whenever a child has been absent five days on account of illness we feel that it is our duty in the interest of the health of the children of the city to satisfy ourselves that the student is not returning with a contagious disease. We therefore require permits, which may be obtained at the city health department or from the school nurse, at the Wilson avenue school."

Issue at Stake

Mrs. Stearns insists this is violation of the spirit, if not the letter of the law. She requested that the school authorities change their rule to admit students without permits whose parents make such request.

Dr. Kaemmerling says he will not consider the change. It is probable an issue will be made of the matter as many parents are objecting.

Mrs. Stearns said her organization is composed of people who believe in medical freedom. She declared all the health boards of the state are dominated by the allopathic school of medicine.

Sophomore Stunts to Be Staged Tonight

The sophomore class of Occidental is presenting the annual soph stunts in the college chapel this evening at 7:45 o'clock. This traditional entertainment is in the form of a jolly carnival and dramatic entertainment. Each of the four classes will present a one-act skit of some unique character not to be known until presented. In fact the whole affair is a secret except that everyone will have a good time. It is a halloween social and the decorations will be in true spook style with pumpkins, witches, ghosts.

The faculty is giving the main attraction in the form of a snappy one-act comedy. Each class will have a booth on the upper quadrangle where refreshments and noisemakers will be sold during the intermission. The class with the winning stunt will have its numerals placed on a huge banner donated by the present sophomore class. The general public are cordially invited. A small charge will be made to cover expense. Music will be furnished by the Oxy jazz orchestra.

Harvey Cheesman's Good Record Told

An appreciation of H. R. Cheesman as Boy Scout executive in Ventura county appears in an account in last Saturday's Santa Paula Daily Chronicle, telling of Santa Paula Scouts enjoying "a last good time with 'big brother' H. R. Cheesman," who has come to Glendale to serve as head of the Verdugo district.

The story says of Mr. Cheesman: "As executive in this county Mr. Cheesman has directed the county Scout organization in channels of successful work since he took up the work here, two years ago, so that there are now in this county twenty active troops of Boy Scouts, and Scouting has reached a high state of development under his guidance."

PROF. ZANTIPPE IS TOASTMASTER GENERAL, B'GOSH

Glendale Man Honored in Hoover's Kitchen Cabinet, Says Special Dispatch

Extra Special Dispatch

WASHINGTON, B. C., Oct. 26.—Professor Xavius Zantippe of Glendale, Cal., today was appointed toastmaster general in Hoover's kitchen cabinet. Your correspondent has traced this rumor to its source and finds it to be absolutely without doubt. It is, moreover, highly probable.

Those in close touch with the learned professor's movements have already approached him on the subject but he is noncommittal. He talked in his sleep, however, giving out the following interview, which he has since retracted:

"The geometrical ratio is in inverse proportion to the syllogism and hence precedes it. I will act accordingly."

The papers of this city all carried the above in big headlines, claiming it is not merely a pronouncement of policy but the statement of some new natural law, or a code formula for homebrew.

When interviewed here in Glendale, Mrs. Z., who has little Xandu on her hands with a case of measles and hence couldn't accompany the professor, stated that appointment of her husband

LOCAL MEN HEAD $300,000 CONCERN TO BUY ROYALTIES

A new company, known as the Royalties Investment company, Inc., has been formed by residents of Glendale, with H. J. Eggers, president; C. N. Erickson, vice-president; J. U. Fagan, secretary, and James Howarth, treasurer, all well-known here.

The company is incorporated under the laws of the state of California, with a capitalization of $300,000, issuing shares at par value of $50 each. It is planned to purchase royalties in producing wells in proven territory, in the southern California oil fields.

The executive offices of the company are 1021-1022 Loew's State building, Los Angeles, Cal.

GRANDFATHER'S CLOCK HERE DEVELOPS DISTINCTIVE PAST

By H. THOMPSON RICH
Of the Evening News Staff

When Dr. H. R. Harrower of 1516 East Broadway picked up an old-fashioned "grandfather's" clock on his recent trip with his family in England, he didn't dream it would develop a past.

But that clock has a remarkable ancestry, according to F. C. Butler, manager of the Lewis Jewelry company, 133 North Brand boulevard.

"In fact," says Mr. Butler, it's 500 years old or I miss my calling."

Aged Inner Workings

Now a statement like that bears looking into, so the clock was examined. It was found to have wooden arbors with steel pivots, and wooden plates with brass bushings, all of extreme age.

On the striking side there are five wheels and four on the time side, all of brass, the teeth filed out by hand. The dial is of brass, the hands of wrought iron, the weights of pig iron—and, more curious still, winding cords of gut.

But most curious of all discoveries made while reconditioning this antique timepiece for Dr. Harrower, reports Mr. Lewis, was the finding by the cabinet maker of wooden nails in the body of the clock.

"Not since the seventeenth century have wooden nails been used," says Mr. Butler, who has made a study of chronometers. "Therefore, figure it the minimum, and this clock is 300 years old. And there are things about its construction that make me confident it is twice this old, perhaps even older. And it still keeps perfect time."

Here, then, is a clock that was old when the American government was founded, that was going when Germany was emerging from barbarism, that ticked steadily all through the Napoleonic era. Many kings of England held the stage their brief hour and departed, while this timepiece ticked on by some humble hearthside. Dynasties were overthrown in far countries, disasters swept the world and were forgotten—and time went on—and this clock ticked on.

When rehabilitated it will occupy a preferred niche in the Harrower home.

PRESBYTERIAN INTERMEDIATES TO HOLD SOCIAL

The Intermediate Christian Endeavor society of the Glendale Presbyterian church is holding a combination box social masquerade and Halloween party in the social hall of the church tonight. Mildred Sooy, social chairman, has planned a snappy program to fit the occasion.

Each girl will prepare something to eat and will bring it to the party where the boys will buy the baskets. The purchasers will then devour the meal in company with the original owner of the box.

Following this, the Halloween party will be run off, and much merriment is expected.

Dr. Funk on Program of Reformation Rally

Dr. H. C. Funk, pastor of the First Luthern church, is to read the Scripture lesson Wednesday night at the "Reformation Day Rally," to be held by the united Lutheran churches of Los Angeles and vicinity at the First English Luthern church at Eighth and Flower streets in Los Angeles.

To the extent one's memory permits him to retrospect, to that degree he profits by his errors.

COMMENT That's All

Sewage Disposal Vital
Chorus Girls' Costumes
Hot Dogs and Ford
Some Editorial Hash

By Gil A. Cowan

Perhaps you do not know our personal views on the sewer situation. Irrespective of what others think, we want to see the sewage disposal problem settled for once and for all by Glendale voting the necessary bonds to build a trunk line into Los Angeles to connect with the outfall. No need of argument. It must be done. It must be paid for. And we stand with the rest to pay our share.

Publicly our views are the same. There is no politics in the sewer issue. It is a straightforward business proposition. Without sewers Glendale will be hampered in development. Property values will be checked. The future will be questionable. It has taken years of effort and cooperation with Los Angeles to bring about the present favorable circumstances by which Glendale will be able to economically and permanently settle its sewage disposal problem. Let us vote the bonds when the election comes around.

CHORUS TO SHOW LESS, DO MORE

Gay Ladies Accuse Sons of Small Towns for Their Present Dishabille

Arise, ye sons of the "small town" and defend yourselves.

The gay ladies of the chorus, whose twinkling toes lure you to the city to see the latest naughty naughty shows, turn an accusing finger to the residents of Watts and Willowville and other suburbs which do not have the burlesque shows as a regular diet.

In an interview with International News Service none other than Dorothy Bryant, president of the Chorus Girls Equity association, insists that they shall wear more, the girls, we mean.

And the "tired business men" from the smaller towns who tarry in the city shall see less—at least not as much as they hope to.

Disparaging Remarks

Among other things this disparaging critic, who evidently hails from a small town herself from the wonderful insight she displays, says:

"The average stage girl is a good girl—no different from the flapper, school girl or school teacher. At heart, she is good and clean and has ideals.

"If there weren't 3000 chorus girls out of jobs in New York today it would be a mighty hard job to line up a chorus of 'nudes'.

Those they do get are from the small minority—the less than 10 per cent. Ours is an overcrowded profession. Girls out of a job must do something.

"But the 90 per cent are sound. They won't lower their standards. There is a gradually growing 'aristocracy' that will not stand for the indecent.

Ability to Count

"Next season, the girls will be asked not so much, how do you look, but what can you do? Beauty is to be supplanted by talent."

Mrs. Bryant recalled that when the Amazon-type chorus girl made her first appearance in tights twenty or twenty-five years ago, the country was shocked. The shock wore off, however, and in the last year or two, tights have given away to talcum powder.

"It's really been the small town man's fault. When in the big city he demands a zippy show—something Main street, the family or the woman's club wouldn't stand for.

"But the chorus girls have had enough," said Mrs. Bryant. "It simply can't last."

So, there you are. Evolution brings about reforms where reformers fail.

Police Shotgun Squad Riddle Car Bandits

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26.—In a running fight with the police shotgun detail, two automobile bandits were seriously wounded today. John Davis is expected to die and his companion, Herman Henke, was shot through the ear, side and arm.

The two surrendered only after they had emptied their revolvers and had been wounded. Their car was riddled with buckshot. The police riding in an armored car were protected from the bandits' bullets.

The two are alleged to have stolen an automobile here and proceeded to San Jose. There they abandoned the car stolen in San Francisco, according to police, and picked up another machine and started back to San Francisco.

Hardwar, on the bank of the Ganges river, is a popular spot for ablution, and its bathing ghat and temple of Gangadwara are annually visited by 300,000 pilgrims.

Jealous of Fiance's ex-Wife, Slays Self

SEATTLE, Oct. 26.—Jealousy because of visits to the home of his former wife by Avery Austin, to whom she considered herself engaged, led Mrs. Mary Horngrin, 23-year-old divorcee, to shoot herself fatally while riding in the automobile of her fiance. The dying woman was taken to the city hospital by Austin, where she died.

Mrs. Horngrin had resented his weekly visits to the home of Mrs. Austin, from whom he was divorced, according to the account given by Austin to the police. Austin visited the place, he said, to see his young daughter, whose custody had been given the mother.

EAGLE ROCK

FIRE FILM SHOWN SCHOOL CHILDREN

"The Third Alarm" Feature Of Entertainment Given At Student Meet

"The Third Alarm," a fire film that shows the modern trend, proved a timely entertainment feature at this afternoon's gathering of local children in the auditorium of the Eagle Rock school.

The gathering was under the auspices of the Parent-Teacher association, Mrs. J. C. Reiter, president, presiding. It marked the wind-up of Children's Community Week, which has occupied the major portion of the Eagle Rock civic stage for the past few days.

The film was shown under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce. It was followed by a story-telling hour, in charge of Mrs. Donovan Haiden. The children received the film and the balance of the entertainment with real enthusiasm.

"So successful has been our Children's Community Week," says Mrs. Reiter, "that it is now certain it will become an annual affair. Everyone is awake to the need for careful guidance of all influences touching upon the lives of our children.

"We heard Chief August Vollmer, of the Los Angeles police department tell us not long ago that the child is the wedge between public safety and the reign of criminals. A child must be trained like a vine or a tree."

Children's Community Week in Eagle Rock is the idea of Rev. William Middlemass, new pastor of the Presbyterian church. While pastor of the Knox Presbyterian church in Spokane, Wash., he is said to have organized and put over such a week, with highly successful results.

Dog Trainer Writes

Mrs. Frank J. Benneson, 2033 Park avenue, Eagle Rock, writes as follows, regarding the interview with Lawrence Trimble, owner of the famous dog, Strongheart, as it appeared in the Glendale Evening News of October 23:

"I am heartily in favor of the article, regarding the training of dogs for the screen. In all the work that my Bonnie Laddie has done, it was managed through love and patience. Never once has he been whipped.

"In fact, I have worked with him with many of our best directors and will say that I have never seen them use any cruel methods. I would not allow Bonnie Laddie to play under such conditions. He has always done his work obediently and quietly, through use of kind words. All who have seen him in person or on the stage know how readily he responds to love.

"Let us hope that persecuted dogs will find warm friends in all lovers and trainers of animals. I am a member of the Glendale Dog Protective association and appreciate the good work they are doing."

Mrs. Benneson's Bonnie Laddie is a thoroughbred collie, known as one of the most beautiful animals that has ever graced the silver screen. In his interview as published in the News, Mr. Trimble told how some trainers use cruel tactics to make their dogs do the tricks that put them on the film pay-rolls, pointing out that Strongheart was trained through love and patience, as was Bonnie Laddie.

NOTICE OF SALE OF REAL ESTATE UNDER EXECUTION

Sheriff's Sale—No. B-26891

J. R. M. GORDON, Plaintiff vs. TUJUNGA WATER & POWER CO., a Corporation, Defendant.

By virtue of an execution issued out of the Superior Court of the County of Los Angeles, State of California, wherein J. R. M. Gordon, plaintiff, and Tujunga Water & Power Company, a corporation, defendant, upon a judgment rendered the 26th day of April, A. D. 1916, for the sum of Two Thousand Five Hundred Eighty-eight and 53-100 ($2,588.53) Dollars lawful money of the United States, besides costs and interest, I have levied upon all the right, title, claim, and interest of said defendant Tujunga Water & Power Company, a corporation, of, in and to the following described real estate, situate in the County of Los Angeles, State of California, and bounded and described as follows:

All the right, title and interest of the Tujunga Water & Power Company, in and to the following described real and personal property, to-wit:

PARCEL NO. 1—Lot five (5), of Section six (6), township two (2), north range thirteen (13) west, S. B. M., in the County of Los Angeles, State of California, containing forty (40) acres, more or less.

PARCEL NO. 2.—All of lot one (1) of the West portion of the Tujunga Ranch, as per map thereof recorded in book 29, pages 50 and 51, Miscellaneous Records Los Angeles County, saving and excepting from said lot one (1) that portion thereof heretofore conveyed by the Tujunga Water & Power Company to Henry S. Van Dyke, by deed recorded in book 4009, page 281 of deeds, Los Angeles County records. Said parcel No. 2 being one hundred and fifty (150) acres more or less.

PARCEL NO. 3.—All of that certain piece or parcel of land situate in the County of Los Angeles, State of California, (being twenty-four (24) acres more or less) and more particularly bounded and described in that certain deed from Charles E. Rancier to Tujunga Water & Power Company, recorded in book 2064, page 294 of deeds Los Angeles County records, to which said deed and record thereof reference is hereby made and had for further and more particular description.

PARCEL NO. 4.—All property rights and privileges, easements and franchises of every nature, kind and character whatsoever, owned, operated or controlled by the said Tujunga Water & Power Company in and to water, water rights, dams, dam sites, reservoirs and reservoir locations, rights of way and other easements, in the Angeles National Forest reserve, granted by or otherwise obtained from the Department of the Interior of the United States, or other source, including ten (10) dam and reservoir locations, rights of way for pipes and pipe lines, and all improvements made or done by the said Tujunga Water & Power Company and its grantors.

PARCEL NO. 5.—All water contracts covering one thousand six hundred and sixty-six (1666) acres of irrigable land in Hensen Heights Tract and Tract No. 102, in the County of Los Angeles, State of California, as shown on map book 13, at pages 142 and 143 and page 57, respectively.

PARCEL NO. 6.—All ditches, flumes, conduits, aqueducts, pipes, pipe lines and distributing systems, same being two and one-eighth (2 1-8) miles of two inch redwood pipe twenty-four (24) inch by twenty-four (24) inches in diameter, reinforced with steel bands, and ten (10) miles of steel pipe and outlets for delivery of water, located in said Hensen Heights Tract, Tract No. 102, and west portion of Tujunga Ranch, in Los Angeles County, State of California.

PARCEL NO. 7.—Rights of way for two (2) pipe lines over property known as the Allec Ranch in Monte Vista Tract, and rights of way over land of J. J. Johnson and wife, F. A. Johnson and wife, and C. B. Johnson, as more fully appears from description in book 1107, page 88 of Deeds, Los Angeles County Records.

PARCEL NO. 8.—Rights of way or other easements necessary or convenient to the proper construction and maintenance of piping systems over and across all lands in lots 1 to 85, both inclusive, in said Hensen Heights Tract, and lots 1 to 88, both inclusive, in said Tract No. 102, County of Los Angeles, State of California.

PARCEL NO. 9.—Rights of way for pipes, power and conduit lines, and for railways over and across lots 1, 24, 23, 22, 21, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, West Portion of Tujunga Ranch as per map thereof recorded in book 29, pages 51 and 52, Los Angeles County records.

PARCEL NO. 10.—All riparian rights, water appropriations and water rights of every description in or upon or pertaining to the Big Tujunga Creek and its tributaries, made or acquired by said Tujunga Water & Power Company.

PARCEL NO. 11.—All that property described in a certain deed from Samuel Merril, et al, to the Hamilton Irrigation Company, recorded in book 1026, page 113 of deeds, Los Angeles County records. To said deed and record thereof reference is hereby made and had for a further and more particular description.

Saving and excepting from the above described property, that property described as follows, to-wit:

PARCEL A.—That portion of lot 1 of the West portion of Tujunga Ranch, County of Los Angeles, State of California, as per map recorded in book 29, pages 51 and 52, Miscellaneous records of said County, described as follows: Commencing at the northeast corner of lot one (1), thence south 57 degrees, west 77 chains to an angle in the northerly line of said lot marked "T7" on said map, thence southerly ten (10) chains measured along a direct line drawn from said angle marked "T7" to the northeast corner of lot twenty-six (26) as shown on said map, thence northerly seventy-four and eighty-four one hundredths (74.84) chains, more or less, to a point in the easterly line of lot one (1) distant south 11 degrees, 45' E. twenty (20) chains from the point of beginning, thence north 11 degrees 45' twenty (20) chains to the place of beginning, containing 60 acres, more or less.

PARCEL B.—Also lot ten (10), block four (4) in the village of Monte Vista, County of Los Angeles, State of California, as per map recorded in book 6, page 24 Miscellaneous records of said county.

Provided, however, that the foregoing reservations of Parcel A, is subject to all water rights and rights of way hereinbefore described, which water rights and rights of way are not reserved or excepted.

PUBLIC NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, That I will, on Monday, the 29th day of October, A. D. 1923, at 12 o'clock M. of that day, in front of Court House door of the County of Los Angeles, Broadway entrance, sell at public auction, for lawful money of the United States, all the right, title, claim and interest of said defendant Tujunga Water & Power Company, a corporation, of, in and to the above described property, or so much thereof as may be necessary to raise sufficient to satisfy said judgment, with interest and costs, etc., to the highest and best bidder.

Dated this 4th day of October, 1923.

GET YOUR PRIZE SELECTED TODAY

Then Get Into Evening News Subscription Campaign And Win It

$10,500 Salesmanship Club and Greater Circulation Campaign" is its name.

In this campaign two fine, choice building lots, two automobiles and other valuable prizes will be awarded to those who spend a little time and effort in getting new and collecting from the old subscribers securing renewals.

The campaign is just getting started. This is entry week. And right now is the time for you to enter. If you have ever thought of entering and have been hesitating do not do so any longer, but get started right away and remember that there are several valuable prizes and no one can win more than one of them. Also remember that in the event you do not win a prize you get a cash commission on every dollar that you turn in during the campaign. So, it's a plan where everyone wins.

The time for action is now. Determination to win, backed by a little well-directed effort during the next few weeks, will make any one a winner. Once in, stay in. As in all of life's games—business, political, social or otherwise, the most aggressive players pluck the plums, while the half-hearted, half-baked, "trust-to-luck" variety never get anywhere. If you are at all interested write, phone or call and see the Campaign Manager or his assistants at The Glendale Evening News office right away.

Here Are Prizes

The first capital prize is a $2,250 building lot located in Montecito Park of Sparr Heights. This lot will have cement walks, curbs, ornamental street lights, water, gas and electricity, sewer mains and a concrete street. The lot is located on Castera drive, one block east of Verdugo road.

The second capital prize is a $1,500 building lot in Oakmont Heights, purchased from Oakmont Heights Syndicate. This new subdivision is in the Verdugo Woodlands district, within two blocks of the new electric line to Los Angeles. It is well located and commands a beautiful view of La Crescenta valley, Verdugo Woodlands and Glendale.

The third capital prize is a Nash Four touring car bought of and on display at the showrooms of the Nash Sales Company, Inc., 112 South Maryland ave.

The fourth capital prize is a Maxwell touring car bought of and on display at the showrooms of the Glendale Motorcar company, 124 West Colorado street.

District Prizes Also

The above are the capital prizes. In addition to the abovementioned there are six prizes for each of the two districts.

The first prize for each district is a Gulbransen piano bought of and on display at the showrooms of the Glendale Music company, 109 North Brand boulevard.

The second prize for each district is a set of overstuffed davenport furniture. Here is something you should be proud to have in your home. The furniture was bought of and is on display at the Page Furniture company, 306 East Broadway.

The third prize for each district is a Brunswick phonograph bought of and on display at the store of the Glendale Phonograph company, 123 South Brand boulevard.

The fourth prize for each of the districts is a scholarship for six months to the Glendale Commercial School, located at 224 South Brand boulevard.

The fifth prize for each of the districts is a 26-piece chest of Community Silver, guaranteed for fifty years. It was bought of and is on display at the Lewis Jewelry store, 135 North Brand boulevard.

The sixth prize for each of the districts is a $25 watch. The winner may take his or her choice of any $25 watch in the large stock of the Lewis Jewelry store, 135 North Brand boulevard.

In addition to the above, all active non-winners will be paid amply for their time. For all new subscriptions 25 per cent commission will be paid, and for all renewals 15 per cent commission will be paid.

Chest Beneficiaries Will Submit Budgets

The budget and endorsement committee of the Glendale Welfare Chest is planning to ask immediately for the budgets of the various organizations that are to be beneficiaries of the chest, and as soon as these have been submitted and examined and approved, the campaign commitee and the publicity committee will launch the preliminary work of the campaign that is to be staged during the week of November 19 to 24.

This was the decision reached at the meeting of the board of directors and of the various committee chairmen that was held last night in the Chamber of Commerce rooms, with President W. E. Hewitt in the chair.

Alfonso W. Tower, 214 East Park Ave., was made head of the campaign committee, and will at once begin perfecting his organization to handle the drive in the various sections of the city with the maximum of efficiency.

Burton McGinnis, 150 South Brand boulevard, was appointed permanent secretary of the Glendale Welfare Chest at last night's meeting, and he will be allowed sufficient clerical help to permit him to look after the work of the campaign.

Mail Your Checks at Once To Glendale Evening News If You Have Not Yet Paid

Several persons who have announced contributions to the fund being raised for the families of Clarence Edwards and Joseph W. McGahan and whose names appear in the attached list have so far failed to mail their checks to The Glendale Evening News.

In order that the fund may not become confused it is necessary that checks be mailed at once. Those who have announced contributions and who have not paid are asked to immediately mail their checks to The Glendale Evening News. Make checks payable to The Glendale Evening News and write on face "For Fire Relief Fund."

Banks of the city are authorized to receive contributions to the fund being raised through The Glendale Evening News. The list appearing in this paper will be held open for subscriptions until November 6, the date for the benefit entertainment.

Subscriptions received at The Glendale Evening News office will be credited in these columns.

The committee to administer the fund is composed of Mrs. Daniel Campbell, president of the Tuesday Afternoon club; Spencer Robinson, mayor of the city of Glendale; Chalmer Day, commander Glendale post, American Legion; W. S. Ingram of The Glendale Evening News.

The following is the complete list of those who have subscribed through The Glendale Evening News:

Need for Crossings Shown at Hearing

A hearing before the state railroad commission in the matter of Glendale's application for grade crossings at Kenilworth avenue, Concord street and Justin avenue was held Thursday afternoon at the City Hall. W. R. Williams appeared for the commission. At the conclusion of the hearing, which lasted from 2 o'clock to 5 o'clock in the afternoon, the question was taken under advisement.

Members of the city council and other city officials testified as to the urgent need of the crossings, particularly Justin avenue, on account of the new school in that viciniy.

The Pacific Electric company opposed the crossings.

Henry Cantor Starts on Orpheum Tour Nov. 10

Henry Cantor, popular Glendale tenor, and Harry Nielsen, accompanist, who assisted Mr. Cantor on the splendid program given last month in the Tuesday Afternoon clubhouse, are leaving Glendale on November 10 for San Francisco where they will open a thirty-two weeks' engagement on the Orpheum circuit, traversing the continent from San Francisco and return.

Their debut under the Orpheum management will be made at the Golden Gate theatre. Their act is of concert form. Both Mr. Cantor and Mr. Nelisen bid goodbye to Glendale and will make known their home place wherever opportunity arises.

Mrs. Cantor and little son Ernest will remain here and reside at 216 East Lomita avenue.

LEADERS ATTEND P.-T. ROUNDTABLE

High School Life Big Subject Discussed at Los Angeles Conference

Roundtable discussion of high school life was one of the features of the conference of the first district Parent-Teachers' Association Federation, held yesterday at the First Baptist church in Los Angeles, and attended by over thirty Glendale P.-T. A. executives and leaders. Heading the Glendale delegation were Mrs. John Robert White, state chairman of child labor; Mrs. E. B. Moore, president of the Glendale P.-T. A. federation; Mrs. Mae Rosenberg, auditor of the first district; Mrs. Elwood C. Pomeroy, scholarship chairman of the first district, and Mrs. C. H. Whitney, president of the Glendale Union High School P.-T. A.

Outstanding thoughts expressed in the high school roundtable session were grouped under the three headings, financial, spiritual and social. Allowances for high school students and help in showing them how to spend their money wisely were advocated.

Keep Pews Filled

The unanimous opinion seemed to be that no matter what church a home represented the high school children should be encouraged to attend church. Chaperonage, earlier hours and more social affairs in the home were favored under the social phase of high school life.

Special speakers of the day were Rev. Ed Williams of Covina on "Patriots in the Making," and Rev. Luther Freeman of Pomona on "Child and Home."

Glendale women participating in the discussions were Mrs. John Robert White, who told of the child labor work; Mrs. C. H. Whitney, who outlined plans for the Glendale High School P.-T. A.; Mrs. W. R. Wichert of the Broadway P.-T. A., who spoke on program work for grammar schools, and Mrs. E. B. Wyman who spoke on parliamentary law.

Regret was expressed that Mrs. C. E. Hutchinson was unable to be present and speak on reading circle organization. She is suffering from injuries she received several weeks ago in an automobile accident.

Professor Zantippe Now Toastmaster General

"I might as well be frank," she said. "My husband's political career is ruining us." Poor Xcellente hasn't had a new car this fall and little Xandu hasn't been to a movie in a week, have you my duck?

"No, Ma, not since I been sick," came from the scion of the Zantippe line. "Gee, I betcha they had some beauts, too!"

Proud of Herself

"But, surely, Madam," we interposed, "you are proud of your learned husband?"

"As a matter of fact," she sniffed, "all that he is, I have made him. When we married, he was just a poor butcher's boy. I inspired in him that lofty attitude toward humanity which has made him the outstanding figure he is. Those big words he pulls, they don't mean nothing. I taught him that stunt when we were courting. He was bashful and the words wouldn't come. 'Say anything,' I told him. 'It don't make no difference what, just so you keep talking.' So he did.

Enough Is Enough

"And as far as that stuff about geometrical rations and that, why he gives out funnier interviews than that in his sleep, lots of times, if that's what you call 'em," and she blushed.

Taking our hat in hand, we made ready to depart.

"You can say this in your paper," she called after us. "Professor Zantippe will make a good practical Toastmaster General. While he ain't no hand for them long, powerful speeches and short, stiff drinks, he can put more kick in two minutes and a near-beer than most folks can in a half hour and a highball."

Charges Husband And Daughter With Theft

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26.—Charging grand larceny, warrants have been issued here for Joseph Becker and Gene London, his 17-year-old stepdaughter, believed to be in Seattle. Mrs. Anna Becker, Becker's wife, who made the charges, claimed Becker and the girl stole $1,000 from under her pillow and fled northward.

Becker shot and killed Charles Smith, Mrs. Becker's partner, in a tea room here in September. In a dying statement Smith exonerated Becker, who was held for Smith's death but later released.

CAPITALIST DIES

SEATTLE, Oct. 26.—Philip E. Fisher, local capitalist and manufacturer, died at his home here early today after less than a week's illness. He collapsed last Sunday at the wheel of his automobile while on his way to visit friends.

CHARGES OF GRAFT START 2 PROBES

Forbes Bribery Allegation Stirs Senate Committee to New Action

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
For International News Service

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Two new federal investigations into operation of the United States veterans' bureau were seen as a sequel to the sensational charges of graft and bribery brought against Colonel Charles R. Forbes, former director, before a senate committee.

These were:

1. The treasury department, through the internal revenue bureau, launched an inquiry into the whereabouts of $5,000,000 worth of drugs and narcotics stored by the bureau at Perryville, Md., during Forbes' administration. Huge quantities of these drugs are reported to have "disappeared."

"Split in Profits"

2. The department of justice was planning an exhaustive probe of charges involving Forbes in an alleged conspiracy to allot millions of dollars' worth of hospital construction work to a favored clique of contractors in return for a "split of the profits."

The senate committee's special staff of investigators, headed by Major-General John F. O'Ryan, meanwhile was probing the bureau's records for trace of fraud and graft throughout the government's $17,000,000 hospitalization program. Evidence of seeming fraud has been unearthed, it was said, in the leasing of sites and award of construction contracts in a number of cities.

Forbes Center of Stage

Interest in the senate inquiry was centered on whether Forbes will accept an invitation of the committee to testify in his own defense. Forbes has told the International News Service he would appear to tell his own side of the story. Although the former director is reported to be in New York city today, prior to his departure he made the following statement to International News Service:

"I intended to give you a complete statement of this whole case, but I have learned there will be further attacks upon me and I can't speak at this time. I will wait until they are finished attacking me and then I'll tell my side of the story. When I do talk they will get another 'sensation.'"

Huge Tobacco Deal Made in New York

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—One of the largest tobacco deals in years was revealed last night with the announcement that plans had been completed for the lease of manufacturing properties of the Tobacco Products corporation to the American Tobacco company for ninety-nine years.

The terms call for a cash payment of approximately $12,000,000 and an annual payment of $2,500,000.

The American Tobacco company, by the deal, acquires all manufacturing assets such as supplies, trade marks, plants and equipment, whether leased or owned.

Denby Assumes Onus of Oil Land Transfer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—Secretary of the Navy Denby, testifying today before the senate public lands committee, assumed responsibility for the transfer of control of the naval oil reserve in Wyoming to the department of the interior.

Denby said the transfer was approved by the late President Harding and that it was considered "strictly legal" by all concerned.

One not willing to account to himself must eventually give an account to the world.

MONTROSE

MONTROSE SCHOOL TO OPEN OCT. 29TH

Pupils of Four Grades Will Be Accommodated in New Building

Montrose school children will take up their studies in their own school building beginning next Monday, October 29, according to the announcement.

Unit number one of the two planned is being made ready for the accommodation of four grades, first to fourth inclusive. This will relieve the La Crescenta school where the Montrose pupils have been attending.

Mrs. Esther Eyre is principal of the Montrose school and will instruct the third and fourth grades. Mrs. Edith M. Boyer will teach the first and second grades.

Saves Long Hike

There are at present seventy-nine pupils registered in the Montrose district, many of them quite small, and the new school will eliminate a tiresome journey for the little feet, as the La Crescenta school is quite a hike for most of them.

The first unit of this $45,000 school plant as originally planned would have but three class rooms. Later developments made another room necessary, and four class rooms have been built in addition to a complete kitchen for domestic science and two basement rooms to be used for storage and janitor equipment. The class rooms are large and well lighted and ventilated.

NURSERYMEN WILL CHANGE LOCATION

Downing & Cox to Move Into New Brick Building on South Maryland

By the terms of a lease closed yesterday between Downing & Cox, nurserymen, and Dave Carney, the latter will at once erect a one-story brick structure at 121 South Maryland avenue, to house the business of the former, now located at 118 South Brand boulevard.

In announcing consummation of this deal, R. E. Downing, manager of the nursery, states that, inasmuch as their present lease expires December 31 and has been bought from the owner by Salmacia Brothers, it was necessary to seek a new location.

"We feel that our new headquarters on South Maryland will be just as centrally located as these we now occupy," states Mr. Dowing. "We will be but one and a half blocks from Brand and Broadway, and particularly with the widening of Maryland and putting in of an ornamental lighting system, with the added advantage of no parking restrictions, we are going to be very conveniently located."

Seed and Bulb Store

The firm will establish an up-to-date seed and bulb store at their new address, Mr. Downing announces, carrying in addition spraying materials and equipment, lawn and garden supplies, fertilizer and ornamental shrubs and house plants.

Their main prapagating nursery will remain at its present location on North San Fernando road, near the Glendale-Burbank line, where two acres are under intensive cultivation, a lath house covering one-half acre and several thousand plants being rooted there, with supplemental sales rooms on the premises as well.

The new home of Downing & Cox on South Maryland avenue will be ready to occupy before the first of the year.

AMERICAN SPEECH LECTURER'S TOPIC

Origin of Language Used in U. S. Is Explained by Speaker at Oxy

Dr. Carl S. Patten, pastor of the First Congregational Church of Los Angeles, addressed the students of Occidental yesterday morning in the chapel. He spoke on the "American Language." Dr. Patten impressed upon his hearers that the American language is alive and that it is a human thing, ever changing.

He told how our forefathers came here and unconsciously began a process of creating the American language. America borrowed words and many phrases from the native Indian. Others came from Spain, Germany and Austria, while thousands were brought over from England. Some Chinese words have also been borrowed, he said.

Invent New Words

There are three steps in the process showing how the American language split off from the English mother tongue. Words have been manufactured through new experiences. The people are conscious of the invention of such words but they become necessary through experiments and inventions where new terms are needed for explanation.

The American people have a genius for inventing words and coining words out of words. For instance "Hooverize" followed the Hoover policy of economy. Still the public finds no time to say some words which they believe too long.

HOLD RECEPTION FOR LIVINGSTON

Popular Pastor Welcomed at Start of Third Year in Local Church

Members of the congregation and invited guests assembled last night at Casa Verdugo church to honor their pastor, Rev. J. C. Livingston, with an informal reception, welcoming him upon his return to enter the third year of his pastorate.

The auditorium was decorated with roses, chrysanthemums and palms. H. J. Olmsted of the official board presided as master of ceremonies. Following community singing, and invocation by Rev. E. E. Ford, short speeches of welcome were made by Mr. Olmsted. Rev. C. M. Calderwood of the First Congregational church; Rev. E. E. Ford of the First Baptist church, and Rev. Julius Soper, pastor emeritus of Casa Verdugo, with response by Rev. J. C. Livingston.

Special numbers on the program for the evening were two beautiful whistling selections, "At Dawning" and "Mother Machree," by Mrs. Derek Paine, a former pupil of Miss Agnes Woodward. She was accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Ann Lynn. Readings by Mrs. R. D. Jones, "Aux Italiens" and "Lias" the last named taken from Paul Laurence Dunbar's poems.

The choir rendered an anthem, "Ye That Stand in the House of the Lord."

At the close of the program they repaired to the social rooms in the basement and coffee and home-made cakes were served by the women of the church.

Among the special guests were Rev. and Mrs. E. E. Ford and Rev. and Mrs. C. M. Calderwood.

GOVERNMENT SURPLUS

The United States government piled up a surplus of $180,484,958 in the first quarter of the current fiscal year, which ended September 30. Increased receipts totaling $973,024,995, and curtailed expenditures amounting to $791,540,036 accounted for the surplus. At the same time gross public debt was reduced from $22,349,707,355 to $22,125,614,247.

California's Golden Bear Plays at Portland With Bulldogs for Opponents; Idaho and Oregon Meet

By JACK KAZMARK
Written for The Evening News

Those followers of football who believe that the University of Southern California team will be slaughtered by the Cardinals at Stanford on Saturday may have another guess coming. It is true that Henderson's squad was defeated by Washington by a large margin, but the play by play story indicates that the Huskies were given breaks on three occasions that resulted in touchdowns.

The Trojans just have to win this game if they want to linger longer in the limelight of the gridiron, and coming from a defeat will make them just that much harder to stop. They must put everything they have in stock into this game or pass out of the picture.

Stanford Has to Win

Stanford must win, however. A defeat by the Trojans would place them without the charmed circle of contenders and would naturally rob the "big game" of much of its color. Little Gordon Campbell, the flashy, shifty backfield star of Gloomy Gus' warriors from the southland, was out of the game up north for a long period, but will be back again in the Cardinal game, which will give added strength to U. S. C. It was a case of Washington getting the breaks from the start and following up this great advantage. Not even the wildest supporter of the Seattle team dreamed of such a victory, which is an indication that one cannot be too sure of the results of any contest that may be staged this year on a Pacific coast conference football field.

The Cardinals should win, and if they do not that House of Cards will tumble far down the ladder, and no longer will championship hopes be possible at Palo Alto—not in the near future.

Hard Trip For Trojans

The Trojans will have a hard trip this week and for this reason the Kerr squad should enter the contest a favorite to win by a touchdown. But anything may happen in an open field with an elusive ball bouncing back and forth, and for this reason you may be sure that the Stanford coach, Little Andy Kerr, will be pointing his charges for this particular game which should carry them through the season up to the Bear clash if they can surmount the hurdle.

California will journey to Portland to meet the Washington State college squad, coached this year by Exendine, a former All-American selection of Walter Camp. The game is to be staged on Multnomah field, Portland. The W. S. C. squad was beaten by the Bruins 45 to 7 last year, but the margin should be much smaller in this season's affair. Idaho won from the Cougars by 14 points, while the Gonzaga university team ran up 27 points against the Exendine eleven, with two touchdowns against them.

Bears Need to Score

If Andy Smith's Golden Bears can run up the score made by the Bulldogs against the Pullman outfit it will mean that they will have nothing to fear in staging contests away from their own campus. The Staters have looked weak this year, but they have been beaten by some strong teams, and Andy Smith cannot hope to better the score made against the Oregon Aggies. In Zaepel and Hickey, the Pullman lads have two fine backfield men, while the line has been showing improvement in every game.

Any team with a fine passing game may prove dangerous at any time, and inasmuch as Exendine has always been one of the best forward pass experts in the country it would not be at all surprising to see the Cougars uncover an aerial attack against the Bears. Many California supporters predict that the Bruins will again go above the 40 mark. That is to be doubted. The last time the Bears invaded Multnomah field against the Cougars the northerners gave them a hard fight, the Cougars losing by two touchdowns. Zaepfel and Hickey are two of the players left from the 1921 squad coached by Gus Welch, the former Carlisle star.

Idaho-Oregon Clash

Idaho and Oregon will clash at Eugene. These teams have played fifteen games, and never once since 1901 has an Idaho team been returned a victor. This year Coach Matthews, of the Idaho squad expects to win despite the jinx that has always upset the plans of the boys from Moscow. He fears Oregon with its flashy backfield, but, despite this fact, the Matthews clan should have the edge on the Eugene outfit. They will need the edge, too! They have had better teams in the past—and lost. So much for this jinx.

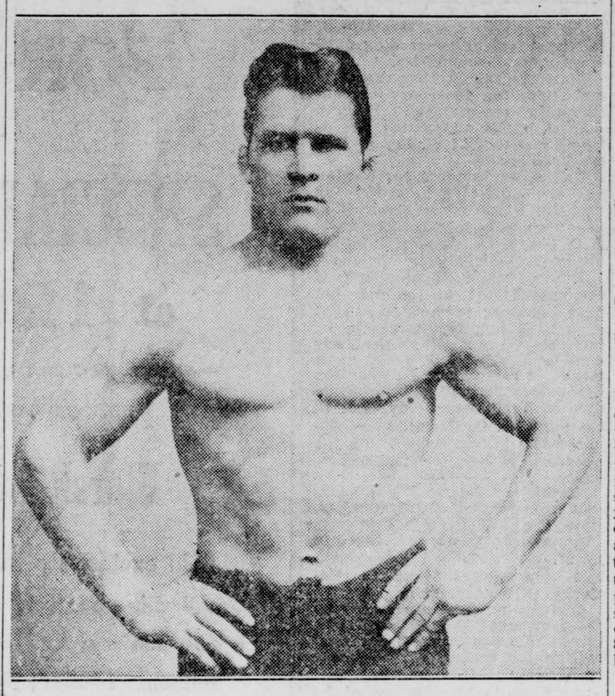
Citrus Union Eleven Plays Glendale Today

Citrus Union High school's varsity football eleven invades Glendale this afternoon for a tilt with the locals. Whether they go back to their home town with victory in their lizzies or whether they sneak back with their tails between their legs will be decided in the fracas this afternoon.

If you ask any player on the local team, he will strongly assert that the Lemons will fulfill the latter part of the above-mentioned statement. The visitors probably have their own ideas upon the subject. So that the prospect of a hard-fought game is certain.

The same team that smothered the South Pasadena aggregation will start against the Orange and Black pigskinners today: Lavalle and Horii on ends; Phillips and Dotson at tackles; Morrison and Brucker, guards; Zaun, center; Bud Elliott, quarter; West and Ryan, halves, and Breezy Elliott, full.

Hackenschmidt Grapples Joe Polk Tuesday Night



Joe Polk, A. E. F. champion, whose name on the Universal lot is Poggi Nazzareno, new sheik of filmland who also parks a pair of wicked biceps. He will wrestle John Hackenschmidt of Glendale next Tuesday night at Hahn's auditorium, 109 North Brand boulevard, under the auspices of the Glendale Athletic club.

John Hackenschmidt, of Glendale, who held Bull Montana to an hour and a half draw on Labor Day, will wrestle Joe Polk, "the Sheik of Universal City," otherwise known as Poggi Nazzareno, at Hahn's auditorium, 109 North Brand boulevard, 8:30 o'clock Tuesday night, October 30, under the auspices of the Glendale Athletic club, announces Les Marston, matchmaker.

Hackenschmidt needs no introduction to local mat fans, while those who have followed the fortunes of Polk are confident he will put up a terrific grapple. Inasmuch as there is no time limit to the bout, Les advises the folks to bring their breakfasts.

Joe Polk, as Nazzareno chooses to call himself professionally, is a world war veteran and A. E. F. champion. Returning to his native shores after the armistice, he piled up brilliant wrestling records in Philadelphia and Chicago, then hit it for the coast, where in Hollywood and of late at Universal City he has been tussling with the Kleigs and Cooper-Hewitts, playing in Rex Ingram's "Scaramouche" and other big films. He has defeated such good men as Sam Clapham and Abe Kaplan.

Other numbers on next Tuesday night's G. A. C. card include the following boxing preliminaries: Jimmy Racer, of Glendale, vs. Ted Rose, of the local club; Jack Carr, of Glendale, vs. Battling Chico, of Lankershim, and Cecil Taylor, of Burbank, vs. Freddie Klagge, of Pasadena. Rose, Racer and Carr all got their men at last Tuesday's affray in Hahn's auditorium.

Kansas City Blues Win 'Little World Series'

BALTIMORE, Oct. 26.—Kansas City American association champions yesterday won the "little world's series" when they defeated Baltimore in the ninth game of the series, 5 to 2. This gave Kansas City five victories in the games played. The Blues started scoring in the very first inning, knocking Lefty Groves, the Oriole ace, out of the box. Parham, who relieved him, held the scoring to a single run. Ferdie Schupp, former National league pitcher, twirled for the winners.

NEW GYMNASIUM PLANS LAUNCHED

Occidental Opens Campaign to Finance Building of Latest Design

President R. D. Bird of Occidental made several important announcements in chapel yesterday. The campaign for a men's gymnasium he said, is launched and several of the alumni are working on a plan where Oxy grads can buy notes of $1000 with interest to aid in furthering the beginning of an up-to-date boys' gym. Money has been given to the physical education department to pay the expenses of three men who will make a tour of the gymnasia throughout the country and study the latest scientific methods in use. Coach Pipal and two others will start on the tour of inspection the latter part of the school year.

The funds for the women's dormitory are increasing rapidly, and everything looks very satisfactory. It is assured that the ground for the new building will be broken before next summer.

Order Building Plans

The friends of Occidental are many, and high spirited. A friend of the institution, who has requested that his name not be mentioned, has given orders for the making of plans for the proposed new administration building which will be the greatest of its kind in the United States. Myron Hunt, the college architect, has been instructed to draw up a complete set of plans and specifications.

With the completion of the new Mary Clapp library by New Year's and the women's dormitory and men's gymnasium assured, and first steps made toward the erection of a new administration building, faculty and students look forward to an even greater and more beautiful Occidental.

Sport Snaps
by JACK KEENE

In the football season of 1907 a preliminary game was being played at West Point. When the players lined up there was a huge bulk of a man at tackle. It was necessary to stand alongside of him to realize what his bulk was, because his weight was so great that he could carry the ground structure and the superstructure of his frame very nicely.

The game had not gone very far before this giant ran wild. He upset everything in his path, nearly, including the officials who got in his way. The players of the opposing team seemed to melt in front of him like wheat that is dropping to the ground in front of a reaper.

"Keep an eye on that fellow," said one of the army coaches. "His name is Pullen. He comes all the way from Alaska, and before he is through playing football here on the plain I think he will take about all the football players of other teams captive and tote them back to Alaska with him. He has strength enough to carry a mule on his shoulders and run uphill with him. He doesn't know a lot about playing football and probably will overstep the rules until he gets settled into the game, but when he makes up his mind to go somewhere he'll be there when the train stops."

D. D. Pullen passed away recently at Walter Reed hospital at Washington. He was Major D. D. Pullen, graduate of 1910. He had been ill several months. He was decorated for bravery during the war and his age was 38 when he was called. He was a member of the football teams of 1907 and 1908 that played the navy. There was no game in 1909.

In the 1907 game that Pullen played against the navy the men on the team were Besson, Underwood, Stockton, Stearns and Ayres at end. There were many ends. The navy had a busy pair that year, De Mott and Dague, who kept the army jumping. The tackles of the army eleven were Weeks, Pullen and Fowler. Pullen, if memory serves well, played himself into the ground and was injured. "Red" Erwin and Moss were guards. Erwin is the polo player who represents the United States so well now. Philoon was center and Mountford and Kern quarterbacks. Surles, Greble, Beavers and Johnson were halfbacks. Smith was fullback and captain and Hanlon also played fullback. The navy won 6 to 0. In the first half the navy got the ball on a fumble. With a play gone Lange got through and put the ball on the army three-yard line. The navy fumbled the next time. Players said that Pullen smashed through and brought about the fumble. On the next play Douglas went across the line, and that was the only score in the game.

In 1908 Pullen played tackle again. Johnson, Stearns and Carberry were army ends, Byrne and Besson played the other tackle position. Weir, Moss and Nix were guards. Philoon not only was center again, but captain. Hyatt was quarterback. What a general on the football field he was! The games he directed are classics of judgment in football. Dean and Greble were halfbacks. Chamberlain and Walmsley played fullback. The army defeated the navy 6 to 1. Dean made the touchdown and goal for the army. Lange a goal from placement for the navy.

Dean scored after a very unusual play. Dalton had punted for the navy and Greble kicked back after one fake play. The ball struck the ground. Chamberlain, on side, coming down on the run, grabbed the ball and ran to the navy four-yard mark. This was almost before the game had got warm. Two tries and Dean scored his touchdown.

Toward the end of the first half, the navy, with only a down left and close under the army line, tried a placement kick, which Lange made.

LEMONS ARE SOUR FOR GLENDALIANS

Middleweights Lose Game to Citrus Union by 6 to 0 Score

By NEAL A. SOOY
Written for The Evening News

"Blooie!" Thus went the football hopes of Glendale Union High school's middleweight football team when they struck a snag in their cruise for the Central league pennant. They had safely navigated the rapids of South Pasadent, but when they came to the Citrus maelstrom yesterday afternoon, they failed to handle the ship of state correctly, and shattered to pieces on one of the rocks labeled 6-0.

The local should have won. Not by a large score, but at least by a comfortable margin. But they played poor football. La Franchi, usually a stellar safety man, missed a punt that lost the game, for an Orange and Black man scooped it up and ran twenty-five yards to the goal line. The midgets tackled poorly, and time and again let an opponent slip through their hands. One of the causes for the defeat may have been the complete change in the line—guards stuck on ends, tackles at guard, etc. Glendale also missed Red Stillwell's dandy end playing as he was declared ineligible.

Lemons Score On Fumble

The only score came in the third quarter, when Lindsey, the Lemons' quarter back scooped up a fumbled punt and raced for the line. The kick was blocked, but the damage was done. Ten-minute quarters were called instead of the customary fifteen, and this aided in holding the Red and Black squad.

The first half was an almost constant interchange of punts with neither team gaining much ground. Glendale tried several passes, but the Lemons succeeded in breaking all except one. In the second half, though, things began to buzz along more rapidly. Glendale and Citrus renewed their punting, but a break popped up when La Franchi failed to get completely under a spiral and it bounded off his hands where an Orange and Black man picked it up. They failed to kick goal. Glendale entered the fray again with the determination to do or die, but their attempts all died. "Frenchy" tore off gains with the rest of the backfield following up his example, but penalties and stalling held them down, until the final whistle rang.

TROJAN TEAM ON EDGE FOR CARDS

Interest in Football Circles Centers on Struggle at Palo Alto

By 'DOC' McGILLIS
Of The Evening News Staff

With the overcoming of the unsteadiness of early season contests, football teams representing colleges and universities on the Pacific coast will swing into action tomorrow in mid-season form. It is about this time each year that the squads face more equal opponents and also the time when upsets are in order.

By far the most interesting battle on tap for tomorrow's coast grid schedule will be the Stanford-University of Southern California clash at Palo Alto. It will mark the first time that the 1923 Cardinals have faced competition, and followers of the northern aggregation are anxiously awaiting the starter's whistle. On account of the massive scores which have been piled up by Coach Andy Kerr's eleven in the early practice games students and alumni of Stanford are beginning to believe that a winning Cardinal combination has finally been found.

Trojans Dangerous

But the plans of the northerners are liable to go awry if "Gloomy Gus" Henderson and his incensed trojans from U. S. C. have their way about it. When the two squads line up on the Stanford field tomorrow afternoon the "Boys from the Farm" will be facing one of the most determined and fighting groups of football performers ever seen on any gridiron. Still smarting from the unexpected and overwhelming defeat at the hands of Enoch Bagshaw's Washington Huskies at Seattle last week, the formerly overconfident Trojans will be fighting with their backs to the wall. A second defeat now would put them securely in the second division of the Pacific coast conference and would do much toward undermining the tanbark standing and prestige that Henderson has established at the Methodist institution during his four years as head coach.

After observing the Stanford players in action against Occidental college last week one is led to believe that tomorrow's contest will be a comparatively evenly matched affair. Stanford has her heaviest team in history, and this, with admittedly the foremost backfield in Cardinal annals, makes them take on a championship appearance for the first time since American football was substituted for rugby at the Palo Alto temple of knowledge.

Other games of interest will be the U. S. C. Freshmen-Stanford Peagreeners at the Los Angeles Coliseum, the University of Washington-Puget Sound contest and the third round of games in the Southern California conference.

HOT OFF THE GRID

Coach Zuppke has appointed two husky linemen to guard his star back, Grange, from being unnecessarily piled on. The Illini will entrain for Chicago tomorrow forenoon.

Coach Ryan has laid more stress on the offense and less on the defense, and Wisconsin fans are awaiting Saturday's game with the Gophers to see how the new system works out.

The Indiana squad had a tough workout on the tackling dummies, Coach Ingram saying he had never seen such a poor demonstration as the Hoosiers put up in the Wisconsin game.

The Iowa gridders, in charge of Coach Jones, are scheduled to arrive in Columbus this morning, where they will go through light signal practice in preparation for their tilt with the Buckeyes.

The Wolverines were given a workout in elementary tactics by Coach Yost in preparation for their game with the Michigan Aggies. Captain Kipke may be replaced by Steger Saturday.

The Gophers are in Milwakuee today, where they will run through signal practice before proceeding to Madison. They have been carefully drilled in defense.

The Maroons' line attack has been smoothed out for the battle with Purdue. Thomas tore the freshman line to shreds in practice. Law will probably start at quarter.

The Purdue squad left this morning for Chicago. Most of the players that have been on the casualty list will be in shape to start the battle.

Coach Wilce has been training his Ohio State warriors in passing. Judy will pilot the team against Iowa.

Georgia Tech will arrive in South Bend this morning, and probably go through light practice at Cartier field this afternoon to loosen up for tomorrow's struggle with Notre Dame.

THEATRES

THE GLENDALE

"The Fog" shows at the Glendale theatre for the last times today. This film made at the Metro studio, under supervision of Max Graf, Paul Powell directing, depicts the struggles of a young man to escape the fog of his lowly surroundings.

Cullen Landis, as the young man in love with the young girl, played by Mildred Harris, gives a striking performance. Others in the splendid cast include Louise Dresser of Glendale, Marjorie Prevost, Ralph Lewis, Louise Fazenda and David Butler.

William Dudley Pelley, author of the story, has written a yarn réplete with thrills, yet full of humanness and emotional appeal. Many people have dropped a tear or two into their handkerchiefs over "The Fog," but all leave the theatre at the end smiling happily.

THE GATEWAY

"The Cheat," now showing at the Gateway theatre, lifts Pola Negri just one rung higher on the ladder of fame. Perhaps her most gorgeous production, it shows her in the colorful role of Carmelita de Cordoba, a Latin-American beauty who falls in love with a young American of limited means.

George Fitzmaurice directed the picture, from a story adapted by his wife, Ouida Bergere. Supporting the star is dashing Jack Holt. Being a Paramount production, the cast surrounding this pair glitters with big names.

Most of the action takes place at a Long Island society resort. The atmosphere is intensely picturesque, and against it Pola flames more brilliantly than ever. It is an ideal screen vehicle for this notable importation to the American silverscreen.

Glendale City Limits
The Improvement Society
Tale of Roast Turkey
Supervisors and Boundary

—By Eleanor Blackburn—

The signs bearing the magic words "Glendale City Limits," posted on the various boulevards leading into Glendale, are silent evidences of the magic growth of the city of Glendale from the day the first limits were established, to its marvelous "spreading out" to its present boundaries.

Statistics tell us that the original lines of incorporation enclosed an area of 1,486 acres and that with the annexation of adjacent territory Glendale now covers 9,610 acres.

The struggle for incorporation and the difficulty in fixing the limits is a matter of history and has been concisely set forth by J. C. Sherer in his most interesting book, "Glendale and Vicinity."

But a little incident which, if remembered at all, would not have been regarded as important enough to mention, might be of interest to any recalling the early days and also will serve as a means of comparison between the Glendale of "then" and the Glendale of the present day, and of the old I. O. O. F. hall as a banquet room in comparison with the Egyptian Village, for instance.

As history relates, "The Glendale Improvement association" existed from 1902 until February, 1906, and automatically ceased to be after a municipal government had been established at the election in February, 1906.

One of its earliest efforts was the movement to incorporate the town. Various moves in this direction for various reasons came to naught.

At a mass meeting called by this association September 2, 1904, J. C. Sherer presiding, on motion of Edgar Leavitt it was resolved that Glendale be incorporated; that it include the Glendale city school district, and that a committee of five be appointed.

At a regular meeting October 9, 1904, a committee on incorporation was named as follows: Goode, Taylor, Overton, Williams and Wells (probably Mrs. Lillian S.).

Opposition to the proposed boundaries developing, other boundary lines, especially to the west and south, were proposed and discussed.

The matter rested for six months and then the records show that at a meeting on July 11, 1905, the matter was revived and the old committee was reappointed with the addition of R. A. Blackburn.

The boundary question again came up and the board of supervisors of Los Angeles county was besieged by citizens, and the pros and cons of various lines were discussed.

At last, on invitation of the committee above mentioned, the board of supervisors came out to Glendale to investigate conditions.

In those days no automobiles (private or county) were at the disposal of this body, and the trip to Glendale was probably made by Pacific Electric, and it was a day's work to drive around the contemplated boundary lines and discuss the matter with those interested.

The old saying that "the way to a man's heart is through his stomach" was uppermost in the thoughts of many, and, wishing to make a favorable impression on this august body, the problem of feeding the board was, as usual, up to the women, and largely, in this case, to the wives of the incorporation committee.

Under the direction of that capable woman, the late Mrs. Frank G. Taylor, whose executive ability, vision and a personality that could enlist the following necessary to the accomplishment of things, whether municipal, cultural or educational, a luncheon was arranged at the only auditorium in the village, the Odd Fellows hall, upstairs over Fraley's grocery store, corner of Third (Wilson) and Glendale avenue, to which the board of supervisors and the committee were invited at the noon hour.

With no facilities for cooking or serving, to Mrs. Taylor and her assistants sandwiches seemed the only thing substantial available. And such sandwiches! Two huge turkeys roasted to a golden brown were prepared, if memory serves, by Mrs. H. E. Gulvin and the wives of the incorporation committee, with the addition of Mesdames J. N. Witham, F. L. Church, Miss Ruth Byram and possibly others, soon placed delectable morsels of these birds between slices of home-made bread, the contribution of Miss Ruth Byram, and with the addition of various pickles, hot coffee, doughnuts and possibly home-baked pies supplied the inner man.

The supervisors were loud in their praise of their reception and of the wonderful sandwiches, and sanctioned the incorporation and fixed the boundaries.

Of the turkeys—not a morsel was left, and the rivalry between two members of the committee as to the final disposition of the bones, either in turkey soup or as a tidbit for her cat, came to a sudden end when they realized that for food the bones' value was nil.

25 Lumber Schooners Return to L. A. Trade

LOS ANGELES HARBOR, Oct. 26.—The return of twenty-five steamers and sailing vessels to the lumber trade centered at Los Angeles harbor marked a revival, shipping men said today, in the charter market for coastwise lumber carriers. The Monongahela, the Moshulu, Georgiana, Rose Mahoney, Fort Laramie and W. H. Talbot all are due here with lumber cargoes.

Better and Better Kirk Letter Today; He Calls on Coue!

M. Emile Coue's optimistic suggestion to people of modern age, "Day by day in every way I'm getting better and better," is brought home to Glendalians in the Kirk travel letter today. En route to Switzerland Mr. Kirk and his family journeyed to Nancy, France, and visited the Coue home. Details of the visit are included in the following letter:

W. B. KIRK

"Early Tuesday morning we started south towards Switzerland, via Brussels and Namur, reaching Luxembourg at 6 p. m. This route is through Belgium, the long way. The level country changes to a hilly, wooded landscape about Namur, and from there on it is beautiful to the eye.

"We began to see the old fashioned farm houses with the barns adjacent to the dwellings, such as the boys, who were in France, told us about. Our minds went back to the days of '17 and '18, when the names of all these towns were in everybody's mouth. But that's a disagreeable subject. We had to have an inspection of passports and baggage on entering Luxemburg, the same as if it was as important as England, it is the grand duchy, you know. They have their own money and stamps, although they are so closely allied with Belgium that Belgian money circulates with their own. I was told that they have their own army of 200 men, principally band men, as they have a fine band.

"The weather grew chilly and rainy, so a cursory look over the old city of Luxemburg was all we had there. A wide arroyo runs through the town, spanned by fine arched bridges. Homes are built down below as they are in ours, and gardens up the sides are pretty. The streets are narrow, the buildings old, although new construction is going on in the outskirts, and also some down town. They have an old cathedral, which we did not enter."

Universal Vegetables

"We noticed their vegetable market and this reminds me of something which I had intended to say, that is, that there are certain vegetables, fruits and flowers that seem to be universal and some of them that we would not expect to be so. I have already spoken of the potato in this connection. Other vegetables are cabbage, cauliflower (everywhere), carrots, lettuce and spinach.

The latter is always smashed into a pulp and served so in all countries. Among the flowers is lilac, seen everywhere, begonias in profusion, zenias, dahlias, asters and gladioli. These are the predominating flowers. Of course we see some roses but they don't appear to be grown like dahlias. Some of the latter are about as beautiful as any we grow. I had never seen a gladiolus when I went to California, but they seem to be grown everywhere in Europe.

Yes, We Have No Bananas

"In fruits the pear and plums are mostly grown. I had no idea that the pear was such a universally grown fruit. Most of them, however, are not very good. I wonder where the apples come from for which California seems to have such a reputation over here? We Californians know that outside of the Bellefleurs grown in Pajaro valley and the Yucaipa apples, California grows few apples, and yet people in every country, we have visited have spoken about the fine apples they get from California. It's about the only fruit they seem to know about which is Californian. I imagine they are Oregon apples from Hood River, put up under a California label.

"It surely chagrins me, knowing all the fine oranges, lemons, nuts, raisins, grapes, olives, apricots, prunes and peaches we grow, to hear nothing about any of them, but to hear about a fruit which we surely shouldn't export

SCHOOL BUILDING NEARLY FINISHED

Imposing New Structure On East Broadway to Be Ready in 30 Days

Glendale's imposing high school building on East Broadway will be finished within thirty days.

This statement was made this morning by George Mittry, 541 West Lexington drive, who is the superintendent in charge of the work.

With the exception of the auditorium, the building is now virtually completed. Only a few finishing touches, such as painting here and there, the installation of hardware, etc., remain to be done. A large force of men are now concentrating their efforts on the auditorium.

Will Lay Out Grounds

George U. Moyse, principal of the Union High school, was at the new building almost all of the morning, making a general inspection of the structure. He is also supervising a survey of the grounds preparatory to starting work on the athletic field, the lawn, sprinkling system and miscellaneous work. Early this morning he made a check of the windows for the purpose of placing an order for shades.

Owing to delay in shipment of steel from the east, certain parts of the new building, including the auditorium, were held up for about two months. It was the original plan to have the structure ready for occupancy when the school year started. In all probability the move will be made when school resumes after the first of the year. It is thought the intervening time can be well occupied in getting the grounds in shape and in putting on the final touches to the building.

Census Bureau Gives Cotton Gin Report

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—The census bureau today issued a report showing the amount of cotton ginned to October 18 from the crops of 1923 and 1922, respectively, as follows:

Total running bales (counting round as half bales) 6,400,579 and 6,978,321.

Round bales included 173,994 and 124,869.

American Egyptian 8,745 and 8,467.

Sea Island 260 and 2,525.

Ancient British Landmarks Thrill Glendale Traveler

S. L. Gillan of Glendale standing under famed Stonehenge of England, which he writes about in accompanying article.

By S. L. GILLAN
Mining Engineer and Geologist, 203 West Maple St., Glendale, Calif.
Written for The Evening News

In accordance with the reckless custom of Britishers who insist on bursting into print about America after a brief visit to New York, I'll tell you about a few things I saw on my short visit to Great Britain.

At first I was startled when I saw so many inscriptions that dated back to times before our war of Independence, but I soon became so used to ancient things that I could get no kick out of anything unless it antedated the discovery of America, or, preferably, was more than 1000 years old, and I did succeed in getting many kicks.

Describes Stonehenge

Probably the most impressive jolt of this kind was at Stonehenge on Salisbury Plain, near the south coast of England. These massive stones, shown in the photograph, many of them twenty feet high and weighing more than fifty tons, are as mysterious as any ancient ruins in the world. They form concentric circles, the outer one a couple of hundred feet in diameter. The stones are carefully fitted together, that is, a carefully carved tongue projects from the top of an upright stone and snugly fits into a square depression in the horizontal stone that caps the upright.

Excavation near this ancient temple have disclosed no metal tools nor any clue to the machinery that was used to build this massive structure. It was probably necessary to transport these stones more than a hundred miles for no rock of this kind is found nearer. It is possible that glacial action transported boulders to this locality; but, if so, it was no slouch of a glacier that did the job.

Why our prehistoric ancestors went to all this work is another thing to wonder about.

Sacrificial Stone

The stones are so arranged that a beam of light from the first rays of the rising sun on the longest day of the year lights up what is called the slaughter stone, a flat stone with suggestive depressions in it for catching the blood of the unlucky mortal whose fate it was to be sacrificed. Some people believe that this temple dates back to the happy time when tourists did not get seasick crossing the channel, but could walk dryshod from France.

A few thousand years later came the Romans, and when it is remembered that they held England, Wales nd Scotland clear up into the Highlands for about 400 years, it is no wonder that they left plenty of tracks, ruined camps or fortifications built on commanding hills, excellent roads and a massive masonry wall built clear across Scotland in the Highlands when they had to fence out the unconquerable Highlanders.

Sees Runnymede

Much later in histry, but st ll more than 800 years ago, important events took place on sites pointed out to the tourist, one of them a low, flat island in the Thames, Runnymede. King John and his forces were upon one side of the river and the Barons, with their army, on the other. Neither would cross, so a meeting was arranged on the island, and the result was the famous Magna Charta.

The chopping block in the Tower of London where in early times, crude surgery was practiced on many a famous neck, has a fascination for American doctors.

Business Methods

The American business man who attempts to do business in London is due for a big surprise. If his time is limited, he is simply out of luck. Business is done in only one way and in a very deliberate way. Letters of introduction must be presented if an American expects to be admitted. A pleasant chat then takes place about the weather and maybe our indefensible tariff is mentioned, and every topic but business is in order. At the end of the interview a suggestion is thrown out that maybe it might be convenient to meet again next week.

Next week the plot begins to thicken, and the chat may ripen into an adjournment to the club, where a lunch and a few drinks thaw the ice. On the third visit to the office, and when the business is beginning to be discussed, a clerk knocks and brings in a tray with tea, and all business is immediately suspended for this most important function. The remarkable thing about it all is that they get away with it and really do business.

Farmers' Conditions

English country is remarkably like much of our middle-western country, rolling hills, fields of wheat (which they call corn), stone fences and hedges, and all the buildings of stone, hundreds of years old and good for hundreds more. Idle men are everywhere, millions of them, in Great Britain, and great areas of land are idle, too; a horrible condition which must be remedied and one which the politicians are beginning to worry about.

The doles paid by the government to the idle men aggravate the situation. Freedom of speech is a reality in England. No flat-footed bull attempts to silence a street speaker. The wildest red can spout anarchy from his soap box and the bobby walks calmly past, but the orator must be quick-witted, for he is sure to be heckled by the crowd. A safety valve is thus provided and martyrs are impossible.

Upton Sinclair would have been unknown had he lived in England.

Private Citizen Acts As Cop, Arrests Jap

The shorthanded state of the Glendale police force, due to the fact that two officers are laid up with injuries sustained in the line of duty during the past few days, ought not to be allowed to interfere with the enforcement of the ordinances in such case made and provided, in the opinion of F. E. Fisher, 615 Fisher street, Glendale.

Mr. Fisher this morning encountered T. Nitta, a Japanese, of Burbank, driving a truck between Glendale and Burbank and being, apparently, under the influence of liquor at the time. Carrying out his duty as a citizen, Mr. Fisher apprehended Nitta and brought him in to the police station, where he was held in a cell when he failed to produce $300 cash bond demanded by the authorities after a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of intoxicants had been filed against him.

Hiker Hit by Auto Dies, Driver Held

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 26.—Booked on suspicion of manslaughter, C. A. Samson was being held in the Los Angeles county jail as the result of the death of Lester Moss, 18, and the serious injury of Wayne Weaver, 19, both of Kansas City, when they were run down by Samson's automobile. The accident occurred on the highway 25 miles from Los Angeles. The boys were hiking from Kansas City. Samson said the first intimation he had of the presence of the boys on the road was when his car struck something. Returning to the scene he found the boys and put them into his machine. Moss died en route to Los Angeles.

MANUFACTURING

Pasadena's output of manufactured goods is estimated at $6,000,000 a year and, although Pasadena is not in any sense an industrial city, increasing interest is being taken in the development of light industries, several of which have made a marked success.

'Play the Game,' Says Dead Athlete's Mother

VINTON, Iowa., Oct. 26.—"Play it harder than ever; Roscoe would like that."

With these words to the Vinton high school football team Mrs. A. D. Faris, mother of Roscoe Faris, "carried on" the hopes and ideals of her 17-year old son who is dead here from injuries received in a football game. The sorrow-stricken mother tried to be brave as she said the words which "Roscoe would like," but tears welled from her eyes.

Because of the request by Mrs. Faris, the Vinton schedule will be completed. When newes of his death was first announced it was contemplated cancelling all remaining games this season.

National Children's Book Week to Be Observed Here

Discovering new worlds and adventures through the doorways of books is to be the inspiration for Glendale children the week of November 11 to 17 at the Glendale Public Library and branches, where the national "Children's Book Week" will be observed.

Children's books have a big place in the interest and plans of Mrs. Alma J. Danford, Glendale's capable librarian, and each year she keenly anticipates the "Children's Book Week" as a time when she can come closer in touch with the juvenile patrons of the library by presenting to them new books to read.

Mrs. Danford's wide experience in library work has given her sound basis for the contention that the greatest means of educating children is guiding them to better books, discussing with them all they read, and endeavoring to instill in them a genuine love of reading.

Interesting exhibits and book lists are being arranged by Mrs. Danford and her assistants for children's week, and the standing invitation to Glendale's children to visit the library is to be emphasized by a special invitation to them to be sure to visit the Heart of Home — Health and Happiness

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.

Author of "Diet and Health, with Key to the Calories"

SPIRITUALITY VS MATERIALITY

A HELPFUL LETTER TO MOTHERS

"My Dear Dr. Peters:

"My little 5½-year-old daughter asked me to write and tell you that we have a baby girl who is just the same age as the Adorable Sockums. Ever since the first article about him appeared I have read it aloud to her, and I know wou would be more than pleased to see her little face light up when I tell her there is some more about him.

"You said in one article that you would like to hear of any little discovery of a helpful nature with babies, so I am going to tell you my method of training the baby in regard to its bowel movements. I find that it is much more convenient to train a baby to use a regular toilet rather than a chamber.

"It was always quite a task for me to hold the little chamber firmly between my knees, so one day I tried to take my baby, then only six weeks old, to the regular toilet. I put a folded napkin on the front of the seat, got down on my right knee on the floor, holding the baby on my left knee, supporting its back and head with my left arm, and holding both its feet in my right hand. This sounds rather complicated when I write it, but if you could see how very easily it's done I am sure you could not help but approve.

"My baby is now 5½ months old and uses the toilet to urinate regularly after each feeding and occasionally in between if I happen to take her up. That means at least six times during the day. This means a great many less diapers and much more comfort for the baby. Another great advantage is that, no matter where you go, there is always a toilet, and if a baby is trained in this manner you will have no difficulty. With my baby her daily bowel movement comes directly after her 9 o'clock feeding. The whole procedure has never taken over ten minutes and sometimes much less than that. It almost sems like magic!—H. G."

Thank you, Mrs. G., for the helpful letter. I am sure many mothers will profit by it. An extra cover seat with a smaller opening could be made for this same purpose. At one of the New York health exhibitions a young woman was demonstrating such a cover as this, combined with the ordinary cover, which she said her husband had made and had patented and was going to put on the market. I believe they are on the market now.

Those of you who don't find Mrs. G.'s method works and do find, as she did, that it is difficult to hold the small chamber in the day, might get one of these or have one made. If it were made in two parts, hinged together, it could be folded up and wouldn't be cumbersome to carry when you go visiting with baby.

From your letters, I know you will all be glad to hear that the Adorable Sockums comes back next week. He thinks he has been silent long enough for a baby with his lung power.

Tomorrow—Answers to Correspondents.

My Dear Followers: When sending for material which we offer you, please remember to enclose a stamped envelope bearing your full name and address. The pamphlet on reducing and gaining is the only one for which you must enclose 4 cents in stamps extra. Address your letters to me in care of this paper. Make them as brief as possible, not over 250 words, and type or write them legibly with ink Please sign your name as evidence of good faith—we will not use it in any way. Remember, it is impossible for me to diagnose for you or to answer you personally. I appreciate very much the beautiful letters you send me and regret it is impossible to give you individual advice. WRAP WITH CIRCULAR FLOUNCE

Flounces are one of the surest signs of smartness on either a wrap or a frock, and this model in dark-blue rep will be among the favorites of the season. The back of the wrap is dart-fitted at the shoulders, while the neck is gathered in front. It is a handsome idea to have the large, soft collar and circular flounce of corresponding material—say, for instance, fur, or one of the pelt cloths that so cleverly imitate genuine furs. Medium size requires 3¾ yards 54-inch material.

Pictorial Review Wrap No. 1800. Sizes, 34 to 44 inches bust. and 18 to 20 years. Price, 45 cents.

SIMPLE AND BECOMING

This smart frock is generally becoming, and it can be developed in a number of fabrics that are smart-looking and inexpensive—wool eponge, for instance. It would be effective in dark brown, blue or gray. A vestee of self-material is inserted into the deep open front, the neck and front edges of the dress being finished with a deep collar. The skirt has inserted pockets, and the sleeves are slashed below the elbows, then joined with bands of silk braid. Medium size requires 3⅝ yards 36-inch material.

Pictorial Review Dress No. 1637. Sizes, 34 to 52 inches bust. Price, 35 cents.

Beauty Chats

MASSAGE OF THE HANDS

Few people seem to know that massaging the hands is just as beautifying as massaging the face. In either case it stimulates the circulation and clears the skin, and therefore lessens the tendency to surface blemishes. Some shops have changed the meaning of the word manicuring, by taking care of not only the nails but the hand and fore-arm as well. Flat fingers are moulded and pressed at the tips to make them taper, enlarged joints massaged to reduce the swelling, the palm of the hand rubbed and exercised to make the flesh firm and not flabby; skin foods or skin bleaches put on if there is need of them, wrists moulded, and finally the arm massaged to stimulate the blood.

How much good all this does is a problem. Certainly it does no harm, and certainly it is pleasant for those who can afford it. That it improves the texture of the skin, and in a few cases reduces large joints, has been shown again and again. Years of patient work might slightly change the shape of the fingers; a baby's fingers could be easily moulded, for instance. But massage will do little to reduce joints badly enlarged from rheumatism or arthritis, though it would help make the fingers more comfortable and is usually part of the treatment of these ailments.

You will probably think from this that hand massage is only for the very rich. Not at all. Massage your own hands; it is the easiest sort of home treatment. If they are old looking use a lanoline cream and rub well into the skin after you have washed with hot water. Stroke backwards veins that may swell, and hold the arms up over the head now and then, to relieve them when they are too large. With old people these swelling veins are due to the natural breaking down of the walls of the veins, but with young women it is usually faulty circulation, and massage is good for this.

Freckles: Since your arms are the only part of your body that are too thin, why not develop them through special exercises? An effective exercise for overcoming this difficulty, and which can be taken frequently without consuming much time, follows: Stand erect, arms stretched out in front of you, palms upward and hands clenched. While keeping arms close to sides, bend at elbows and draw arms backward as far as possible. Raise arms over the head, bend elbows and bring arms down close to the sides.

Your skin will be clear if your digestion is perfect and you keep all avenues of elimination in a healthy condition.

Tomorrow—Little Illnesses.

I have been requested to publish a recipe for yeast-raised doughnuts. The following recipe never fails:

Raised Doughnuts: Put one cup of sweet milk into a saucepan and scald it over a hot fire. Do not let it boil. When very hot, pour it into a large mixing bowl and let it cool to the lukewarm stage. Then stir into it one teaspoon of salt, one-fourth cake of compressed yeast which has been dissolved in one-third cup of tepid water, and two scant cups of bread flour (that is, about one and seven-eighths cups of flour). This makes a fairly thick batter. Cover the bowl with a clean cloth and let stand overnight to rise in a moderately warm place.

In the morning it will be light. Add to this batter two well-beaten eggs, one heaping teaspoon of ground nutmeg, one-third cup of lard and butter (mixed together and melted) one cup of light brown sugar and one and one-fourth cups more of bread flour. This makes a stiff dough. Once more cover the bowl with a cloth and let rise. In three hours it will be rady to turn out onto a floured board. Pat it down with the hands, to one inch in thickness, then cut it into small discs with the rim of a china egg-cup or small glass. Pick up these discs and shape them into little balls, then place them back on the floured board to rise for 30 minutes. (They will not rise much, but will become very light.)

Next comes the frying. Have a deep kettle filled with smoking-hot fat. (Fat never boils.) To test its temperature, toss a cube of bread into it; if the cube is browned on the bottom in exactly one minute by the clock, the temperature is right to fry the doughnuts. Put several of the little balls into the kettle at once, but do not let them touch each other (as contact creates steam, which causes them to burst). In two and one-half minutes it is time to turn the doughnuts over (although often they turn themselves over in the fat, because the under side, which is cooked, is heavier than the upper, uncooked side). When browned on both sides (the entire frying will take about five minutes for each doughnut) remove the doughnut from the kettle with a fork, dip in rapidly in and out of boiling water (this cuts the grease on the outside of the doughnut, but does not enter the inside), and drain on crumpled brown paper. When cool, roll in powdered sugar.

The man from New Jersey was telling the Utah man that the mosquitoes in Utah were as nothing compared with the ones back east. In the end he had made a bet that he could take off his shirt and let the Utah pests bite him for ten minutes without even taking a slap at them.

At the end of nine minutes the Utah man saw a good chance to lose the bet, for, although the New Jersey man was covered with mosquitoes he hadn't even quivered. Something must be done. Picking up a burning glass, the Utah man threw its rays on the New Jersey man's back. The man from the east gave a yell and smacked his back with his hand.

"There's one from home," he yelled as he paid the bet, according to Everybody's.

Heart and Home Problems

By MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am sixteen years old. Last year I met a young man twenty-one years old. We went together about eight months. He said he loved me with all his heart and asked me to be his wife, but for several reasons I refused. I told him I would keep him as a true friend. This boy lives in a near-by town.

After I went home from visiting friends and relations there, people said he talked about me and said things that were untrue. This made me feel very badly and I could hardly believe he had talked about me. He means all the world to me. Now he never talks to me and goes with other girls. I heard he was engaged to be married soon. I can now realize what he meant to me.

I would gladly do anything to regain his love for me. He gets very angry if he sees me with any other boy. I have many other friends, but think more of him than any of the others. He treated me with the greatest of respect and came to see me every night.

Please give me your opinion why he is so unfriendly toward me. I heard he was ill and I wrote him a friendly letter and also sent him flowers. When he received them they were old and withered. I couldn't help this; do you think I could?

ANNA.

It is fortunate for you that you have no choice in this matter. The young man no longer cares for you and has turned to some one else. He is not a type worthy of your love and therefore the sooner you forget him, the better it will be for you. No gentleman would have talked about you as he did, and any one with appreciation would have valued the flowers, fresh or withered, for the spirit in which they were sent.

At the age of sixteen you are not hopelessly old or hopelessly in love. Try to forget this last experience and in time you will find yourself even more in love with some one else.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl about seventeen years of age, but am considered much older by most of my friends. My father and mother are separated and have been for years.

My mother is very mean to me most of the time. I am dependent upon my sister although the rest of the family live here together. All work except me and I am in high school. I am almost through though.

Almost a year ago I met a young man and have gone with him ever since. I think an awful lot of him. He has been better to me in the last year than any one else ever has. He has asked me to marry him and I do not in the least doubt his sincerity. Of course we would not think of getting married until I finished school. For the last four years I have had the responsibilities and cares of our home and so I am pretty capable and experienced in the work. He is twenty years old.

After I finish school I will be practically alone in the world as we will sell our home then. I do not know quite what to do in this matter and would appreciate any help you will give.

BETTY.

Girls who marry to escape unpleasant home conditions usually regret it afterward. Of course if you love the young man with your whole heart, you have every reason to consider marriage. It seems to me, however, because of your extreme youth and the youth of the young man that it is unwise to bind yourselves to a promise. Tell him that you do not want to decide anything until you are through with school, and even then you may not want to give your answer.

Japan's soil can support twice the present population.

Marching with American Legion

Milton H. Epstein, who acted as personal representative of General Hunter Liggett in all preparations for the fifth annual convention of the American Legion in San Francisco, has a reputation as a "joiner" in his home city. When General Liggett accepted the chairmanship of the convention committee, he told the legion men that he wanted the assistance of some one person who knew the most people in the whole county, and, without further thought, Epstein was "it."

His connection with the legion is as commander of the San Francisco county council, which has thrown him into close relations with service men from every San Francisco post. But here is a record of some organizations with which he is affiliated—incomplete, say his friends: Vice-president, Bank of Italy; president of Pacific Association of Amateur Oarsmen; captain in Medical Reserve; member Association Military Surgeons; member of Military Order of World War; of the Army and Navy Club of San Francisco; of the University of California Alumni; Commonwealth Club; at one time president of the Associated Charities in San Diego; president of the San Diego Rowing Club; president of the Boy Scouts' Council; national director of Travelers' Aid Society; vice-president of American Institute of Banking; vice-president of the Star and Crescent Boat Company; treasurer and director of the Dixie Supply Company; director of the University Club; Chamber of Commerce; Medical Library Association; Children's Home Association; Rifle and Revolver Club, and—many, many others.

In addition to his acquaintance in California, Epstein is known somewhat as an international traveler, having spent half a dozen years abroad in making further acquaintance.

William Short, president of the Washington State Federation of Labor, recently pledged to the American Legion that at no time would labor in that state ask the legion to take any part in an industrial dispute. The declaration was made at the department convention of the American Legion in that state. "The trades unions understand its strength and its weaknesses, and sometimes it may be wrong," declared President Short, "so organized labor will not come to the American Legion for co-operation on any proposition that the legion will not be willing to aid and endorse."

The Hastings, Neb., girls' cadet corps, said to be the only organization of its nature in America drilling with guns, went to the national conventtion of the American Legion at San Francisco with expenses paid by Hastings business men and the Nebraska department of the legion. The former subscribed $2,000 within a few hours after conclusion of the exhibition drill, and the legion delegates voted an additional $500 for defraying the necessary expenses.

TODAY—Chain Stores—Filling Stations, An Indianapolis "Landmark."

By LOYD MELLETT
For International News Service

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 26.—This and other cities of Indiana are in grave peril of losing the Hoosier reputation for literary and political activity, fine homes and an erudite population.

The danger lies in the influx of big business in a new and sinister—or benevolent—form, whichever way you may view it.

Instead of the fine boulevards and new skyscrapers, the most obtrusive characteristics today are chain stores and filling stations.

There are plenty of both.

Almost every corner has a filling station, and some blocks have two syndicated groceries.

Both have advantages, and some things can be said against them.

The filling station's best point is that it really does help the appearance of many street intersections, and a filling station is often most convenient. However, we have failed to note where in the course of passing years the price of gasoline has been materially reduced by the improvement in the distribution.

Chain stores are making the competition very difficult for the old-time grocer who puts it down on the book until Saturday night or thereabouts. As a rule they keep a few cents under the price of their competitors because of their superior buying facilities. The centralized buying gives them undoubtedly a wide margin, and this margin is made greater on many items by the fact that some brands are of their own manufacture.

All this presages the passing of an era in American business, it appears. More grocers are being forced out than other business men, court records here show.

The ultimate effect of the chain stores probably will not be detrimental. They can reduce prices. After the competition from the regular grocery keeper becomes negligible the various systems of chain stores undoubtedly will make competition between each other a beneficial factor to the public.

The landmark that distinguishes Indianapolis from the standpoint of one who sees it hurriedly is the Soldiers' and Sailors' monument. In the heart of the city, it occupies an area equal to that of a city block.

The old monument was erected to the Civil and Mexican war veterans. Another, to the World war veterans, is to take the shape of a Memorial Plaza, at a cost of $10,000,000. When complete, five city blocks, beginning with the Federal building and ending with the Riley Memorial library, will be embraced by parks and public edifices. The American Legion is to have a permanent home in the plaza for its national headquarters.

Indianapolis has grown, however, and is anxious to get its head up in the population class of Buffalo, Milwaukee, Cincinnati and others. One indication of continued growth is that utilities here are making their plans for fifteen years hence on a basis of half a million inhabitants—not counting the chain of stores and filling stations.

Who's Who in the Day's News

POWER CONVERSION AT MINES IS PLAN OF GOVERNOR PINCHOT

The conversion of coal into electric power at the mouth of the mines and its transmission to every home and plant in a broad radius is the goal of a group of economists and engineers led by Governor Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania.

G. PINCHOT

"One reason why I am so deeply interested in giant power is that it means enormously greater supplies of mechanical energy for our people," said Governor Pinchot recently. "The more power per capita a commonwealth uses the higher the place of that commonwealth in the scale of material civilization.

"Power means wealth, comfort, safety, progress. Great blocks of our people fail to get what they should out of civilization, because they are able to get and use far less power than they should.

"Giant power means that more people will get more power than ever before. It is the open door for better living to all our people, and that is true not only of Pennsylvania but of the whole United States.

"For weeks after our entry into the great war the effectiveness which we ultimately developed was held in check by what someone has called 'distance disease'—the battlefront was 3,000 miles away instead of at the far end of a telephone wire. Principally because our utilities, even the largest and most far-reaching of them, have grown up out of small and isolated beginnings, we have been slow to recognize that distance is a rapidly disappearing factor in public utility development.

"In high-tension transmission of electric current and high-pressure transmission of gas, distance is as unimportant as state lines, as meaningless as in the pumping of oil from the Oklahoma fields to the Atlantic seaboard. Giant power now seeks a new form of co-operation among these vast enterprises, in which the distance factor will have only the importance which modern science and modern engineering give to it.

"Our first concern will be with the small user, particularly the farmer. No system of electrical development would be technically sound if not built on estimates of the industrial power load. Just so our system cannot be considered socially sound if it ignores the more or less immediate requirements of the 200,000 farmers and perhaps as many urban and semi-urban householders in Pennsylvania now without current."

BRIG. GEN. FRANK R. McCOY

Brig. Gen. Frank R. McCoy has been selected to act as director general of American relief in Japan. He is a member of Gen. Leonard Wood's staff in the Philippine islands, and went to Japan recently on leave from duty. The American Red Cross made a request for his services and Secretary of War Weeks approved it.

FRANK R McCOY

General McCoy was born in Lewistown, Pa., Oct. 29, 1874. He was graduated from the United States Military Academy in 1897, and from the army war college in 1908. After various appointments he was made brigadier general Aug. 16, 1918.

General McCoy served on the western frontier, Cuba and Philippines Santiago campaigns and Moro expeditions. Was aide de camp to General Wood in Cuba and the Philippines and to Colonel Roosevelt in 1902 and 1906-8, also aide de camp to the then secretary of war, William Howard Taft, in the second intervention of Cuba, and while he was provisional governor.

During the World War General McCoy was director general of transportation to the A. E. F. He is the author of "Principles of Military Training." He is not married.

PICKS POET FOR THIRD ROMANCE

Former Society Belle Sees Happiness Ahead

Mrs. Elinor Hoyt Hichborn Wylie Benet

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—Romance once more has entered the life of Mrs. Elinor Hoyt Hichborn Wylie. Poet and fervent lover, Mrs. Wylie is said to have at last found happiness in her third attempt by marrying a brother poet, William Rose Benet.

Washington and New York society folk still recall the main events in Mrs. Wylie's impetuous life.

They recall her first as a brilliant Washington society belle, the pride of her father, Henry M. Hoyt, solicitor general under President Taft. Then next, as the blushing bride—in 1906—of Philip S. Hichborn, handsome young lawyer and writer, with considerable wealth. His father was an admiral. Official society circles were open to her and her mate.

They were happy, apparently. And then one day Washington society stood dumfounded as they read how Mrs. Hichborn had eloped to Europe with Horace Wylie.

The Wylies had lived next door. The two families had been friendly. But neither Hichborn nor Mrs. Wylie suspected anything more than neighborly friendship between their mates.

The elopers went to Corsica to live. Their three children spent their early days there. Mrs. Wylie refused to divorce her husband for years—six, in fact. When she finally did, Wylie and Mrs. Hichborn were married.

The scandal connected with their elopement and his love for Mrs. Hichborn finally drove Hichborn to suicide, his friends say.

Then, when the world had almost forgotten the couple, Mrs. Wylie asked for and obtained a divorce from him, claiming he had left her. She returned to New York and announced that she would devote all her time to her literary work. That was in 1919.

Then she met Benet. Their marriage occurred a few days ago.

On the Spur of the Moment

By ROY K. MOULTON

We have come to the conclusion that it will be a terrible blow to the legal profession when W. E. D. Stokes retires to private life.

The trouble with American currency seems to be that it is afflicted with wanderlust.

Probably we will never be able to nickname him Credulous Cal.

"Do You Begin to Give Out at 5 o'clock?" asks a prominent advertisement. No, indeed, the hour is about noon.

CONFESSIONS OF A CYNIC

I like to go to the movies because I can sit there in the dark and concentrate on my business troubles.

I know it is not just the way to feel, but, somehow, I don't care a darn who the Prince of Wales is married to or whether he is married at all.

I would just as soon spend my life on a farm if I could take the city's conveniences and amusements along with me.

I do not envy the people who go South for the winter because I do not figure that two or three weeks of cold weather will do me any harm.

I would be glad to be one of ten men to go through the cafes and take the cigarettes away from the ladies, and I feel perfectly safe in making this offer as I know I will never find the other nine men.

I have never seen a suburb that looked as good as my friends who lived there said it would look.

I don't believe I will ever see a style that will be so ridiculous that no woman will adopt it.

I have tried for several years to find out why a banquet speaker thinks he has got to tell stories, but nobody has been able to throw any light on the subject.

I believe I am by this time sufficiently stoked up on the Stokes lawsuits.

I once thought that the way to make lasting friendships was to do favors for people, but I have had that theory knocked into a cocked hat several times.

Our Tips to Investors

If John D. Rockefeller whispered in your ear to buy Standard Oil of Indiana—that he had confidence in the stock—that it was worth lots more money—wouldn't you buy it?

If Charles M. Schwab slipped you a confidential line on Bethlehem Steel saying it was worth more money—wouldn't you buy it?

Suppose Mr. Guggenheim gave you a name of a copper stock that he was willing to buy himself—wouldn't you follow him?

Of course you would, provided you had the money.—C. T. M.

Uncle Wiggily Bedtime Stories

— BY HOWARD R. GARIS —

UNCLE WIGGILY'S NUT HAT

"My, but it's cold and frosty this morning!" squeaked Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, as she set the table for Uncle Wiggily's breakfast. "Jack Frost was certainly dancing around last night," and the muskrat lady housekeeper shivered a little as she began to bake the pancakes.

"If there was a frost there will be a lot of hickory nuts and chestnuts down on the ground for the squirrels to pick up," spoke Uncle Wiggily, as he twinkled his pink nose before beginning to drink his carrot coffee.

"Does Jack Frost help the squirrels gather nuts?" Nurse Jane wanted to know.

"Well, he doesn't exactly help gather them," explained Uncle Wiggily, but the cold fingers of Jack Frost loosen the hard, shaggy shells of the hickory nuts and burst the prickly burrs of the chestnuts, so they fall to the ground. Then Johnnie and Billie Bushytail, the squirrel boys, can pick up the nuts."

"It must be lots of fun," remarked Nurse Jane.

"It is," said Uncle Wiggily, "and I think I'll go over to the nut grove and watch the squirrels at work and play. For Johnnie and Billie are sure to play as they gather the nuts."

"What will they do with the nuts when they pick them up?" asked the muskrat lady housekeeper.

"They will save them until winter comes, when no nuts can be gathered," answered Uncle Wiggily. "The rusty tailed red squirrels will hide all the nuts they can gather in hollow trees and other places. The gray squirrels, like Johnnie and Billie, will bury the nuts they gather in different places, here one and there one, and will dig them out as they need them."

"I should think they'd forget where they hid them," said Nurse Jane.

"Oh, squirrels are very good at remembering where they hide nuts," Uncle Wiggily chuckled, as he hopped over the fields and through the woods to the grove of trees where he knew the squirrels would be gathering their winter food.

"Hi, Uncle Wiggily!" chattered Johnnie Bushytail.

"Ho, Uncle Wiggily!" called Billie Bushytail.

"Are there many nuts?" asked the bunny uncle.

"Oh, you should see them!" said Johnnie. "Bushels and bushels of them! Jack Frost knocked down a lot in the night. There are so many that we never can gather them all."

"Then I'll help you," offered Uncle Wiggily. But as rabbits are not formed for gathering nuts, the bunny gentleman made funny work of trying to pick them up in his paws. They would roll away from him and then Johnnie and Billie couldn't help laughing.

Or else Uncle Wiggily would try to carry a nut in his teeth, as he saw Johnnie and Billie doing, and the nut would either slip out and roll away, or the bunny gentleman would almost swallow it, and then he would cry: "Gluck! Wob! Gazinka!" And Johnnie and Billie would laugh more.

At last Uncle Wiggily said:

"I know what I can do. If I can't carry nuts in my paws or teeth, I can carry them in my hat."

Now you know why I called this story Uncle Wiggily's nut hat, for the rabbit gentleman used his tall silk hat in which to carry the nuts he gathered from the ground for Billie and Johnnie.

Uncle Wiggily could easily his hat filled with nuts, and it didn't slip away from him. One, two and three hats filled with hickory and chestnuts he gathered for the squirrels.

Then, all of a sudden, as Uncle Wiggily was walking along the fourth time, his silk hat filled to the brim with nuts, he saw, as he stepped out from behind a big tree, the Bob Cat talking to Billie and Johnnie.

"Ah, ha! I know what the Bob Cat wants!" whispered Uncle Wiggily to himself. "He wants to nibble my ears, and he's asking Johnnie and Billie where I am, so he can grab me. He hasn't seen me yet. Now I'll play a trick on the Bob Cat."

So Uncle Wiggily went around the other way and came up behind the Bob Cat so softly that the bad chap never heard the bunny. And just then the Bob Cat said to Billie:

"You'd better tell me where that rabbit uncle of yours is or I may nibble your ears anyhow!"

"We'll never tell you where he is," chattered Johnnie, and he looked around but he couldn't see Uncle Wiggily, because the bunny was just then hiding behind a tree back of the Bob Cat.

"Well, I must have ears to nibble!" snarled the Bob Cat. And just then Uncle Wiggily turned upside down his hat full of hard hickory nuts and emptied them on the head of the Bob Cat.

"Try to nibble some of these!" laughed the rabbit uncle. And when the Bob Cat felt the hard hickory nuts bouncing off his nose he howled and cried:

They would roll away from him.

"Oh, my goodness! Oh, trolley cars!" And away he ran as fast as he could run. So he didn't nibble any ears after all.

Then Uncle Wiggily again filled his nut hat and the squirrels had plenty to eat when winter should come, so they were very happy.

And if the wall paper doesn't curl up and go to sleep under the parlor rug, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily writing a letter.

A few of the small cities in the vicinity of Los Angeles favor being gobbled up by Los Angeles. Glendale is not in the list and has no reason for favoring annexation to any other city. Glendale now has a population of 7,500 and is just as capable of taking care of herself as any city of her population in the United States. Glendale does not need to be tied to anyone's apron strings.

The P.-T. A. Federation will hold a reception tonight at the Glendale Union High school for the teachers of the city. Preceding the reception a program will be given in the auditorium with Mrs. J. F. Padelford, president making an address of welcome.

Mrs. and Mrs. J. F. Lilly displayed the knack of hospitality when they entertained with an informal dinner party at their home, 128 South Louise street last Friday night.

There are not many "punches" in too many lunches.

Real happiness is found, not in business but in busy-ness.

Do not trust to bathroom drop lights,

Governor Refuses to Save Kels From Death

SACRAMENTO, Oct. 26.—Alex Kels, convicted of the murder of Ed Meservey, whose charred body was found in a burned automobile near Lodi, will not be saved from paying the death penalty by executive clemency.

Governor Richardson, in a statement declared that "if that murderer was sane enough to plan the crime, he was sane enough to foresee the consequences."

"Sob sisters" of both sexes have already started a campaign to save Kels, the governor said, but their efforts will be useless.

L. A. Tourists Near Death in Iowa Crash

IOWA CITY, Iowa, October 26.—Two Los Angeles tourists are in critical condition in the Mercy hospital as the result of a somersault on the river-to-river road near Iowa City. Samuel H. Latin and his sons, Irving T. Latin and Dewey Latin were touring from Chicago to their home in Los Angeles when the father lost control of the automobile which was endeavoring to avoid a backing car. The car was upset and turned over twice.

AWARD MEDAL TO YOUTHFUL HERO

Jerry Blakeman, 14, Saves Life of Drowning Woman At Seal Beach

Jerry Blakeman, aged 14 years, who lives with his parents at 726 North Verdugo avenue, was presented a medal yesterday by Ralph G. Cole, state boys' secretary of the Y. M. C. A., for heroism in saving the life this summer of a woman at Seal Beach.

The exercises attendant upon presentation of the medal were held at the John Muir school, where Jerry is a pupil. Rex C. Kelley, Glendale Y secretary, was among those present.

Court Does Big Business

A total of $1,600 bail was demanded of three hapless individuals at Judge A. A. Crawford's last "Speeders' Court"—A. Miller putting up $800 and H. Weingarten and L. E. Beach $400 each.

The charges were transporting liquor, reckless driving and driving while intoxicated.

Two other offenders, L. G. Williams and Frank Sheraza, were fined $250 each, or sixty days in jail, for reckless driving and driving while intoxicated. Williams put up a pitiful tale about losing his home if the fine were levied, because of not being able to meet the payments, but the story caused the judge no softening of the heart when he learned the same offender had been in the same court for the same offense twice before within a short space of time.

A happy reunion of three sisters and a brother, long separated, took place at the home of Mrs. W. H. Sherid, 117 Santa Anita avenue, last week-end. The sisters are, besides Mrs. Sherid, Mrs. Annie Lipsky and Mrs. Decie Hall, the former of Seattle, Wash., the latter of Pennsgrove. The brother is Elmer Morton of Fresno. They had not seen one another for thirty-two years.

The women of the Ladies' Aid society of the Presbyterian church, at a 1:30 o'clock business meeting yesterday afternoon, gave a penny for each year of their lives. The balance of the afternoon was devoted to a social time. No information regarding the amount collected has leaked out, the secret being jealously guarded for fear someone with a flair for mathematics might divine the ages of the various members of the society.

In preparation for their sale yesterday, when the Wilson-Welsh Drug company gave away goldfish free to customers purchasing certain articles, 600 fish were shipped from Burlington, Iowa, in two ten-gallon galvanized tins, with holes in the tops to provide air. That the glittering specimens of the finny clan enjoyed the trip is attested by the fact that not over a dozen gave up the ghost en route.

Complete Distillery Found in Basement

SANTA ROSA, Oct. 26.—Police raided a basement in Dexter street and found the largest and most complete distillery outfit confiscated here since prohibition became effective. The still had a capacity of 75 gallons of moonshine and quantities of the finished product and 900 gallons of wine were found stored in the basement.

Kirk Visits Dr. Coue While Touring France

from our own borders.

"We came from Luxemburg to Metz. We hadn't expected to stop there, but, as we had to come through it, we stopped, expecting to drive over it on Thursday morning. As the day dawned cold and rainy and continued so till noon, we saw little of it. We took a car ride and saw the outside of the well-known cathedral, the river Moselle and some of the business section. You remember its fortifications and the part it played in the war. We saw a little of them, but not much. Metz is in Alsace-Lorraine, you know, and most of its inhabitants can speak German, for which I am thankful.

Talk With Passenger

"I find that my limited knowledge of German comes in even handier than I expected. I can get along somehow, with it, but French 'gets my goat.'

"We met an interesting young man in our compartment on the train. He is a Hollander, but speaks Belgian (Flemish), and French equally as well and his English is not bad. He travels for the Krupps of Germany and sells their product in France, Italy and England. I asked him what Krupp was making now and he said principally steel rails, automobile trucks and stuff of that character. He seems to think the attitude of the European nations made coming wars an absolute certainty.

Taxi to Coue Home

"Finding that we were so close to the old town of Nancy, made famous by many things, but none more than that it is the home of M. Emile Coue, we decided to stop there between trains en route from Metz here, and we are mighty glad we did. You will like to hear about it.

"We reached Nancy about 3 o'clock in the afternoon and took a taxi to Coue's home. His residence is right in town but, differing from most of the flats of these towns. It sits back a little from the street, with an iron fence in front. Our chauffer rang the bell and the woman servant opened the side gate into a garden of beautiful flower beds, shrubs and fruit trees. She told us that M. Coue was busy with a lecture, that we could see him next morning. "We explained that we wanted to go on that night, whereat she conducted us back across an alley to a waiting room in a separate building.

Get Audience

"When the class was dismissed we finally had a chance to see the celebrated man. He is very short and stocky (but no bay window) and is very agreeable and pleasant. His English is broken but easily understood. He insisted that we stay over and attend his lecture and clinic at 9:30 the next morning, so we told him we would.

"We had a good hotel and in a pouring rain drove out there again. About thirty people, from a boy of 12 to old men, came out. Some of them were poor but most of them were middle class folks, some English. The old man first went round and spoke a few words in French to each of the French, and in English to the English, asking them how they were and encouraging them.

"Then he gave a demonstration of cures or great improvement in cases of paralysis, sciatic-rheumatism and deafness, by some of those present. He then 'treated' some of the new cases by passing his hand up and down over their limbs while making a buzzing sound with his mouth, afterward having the patient make the buzzing sound also. He then seated himself and talked extemporaneously in French, in a pleasing modulated voice for a while, then reading in English from manuscript, closing by making another round of his patients with a few words for each.

Explains His Philosophy

"His philosophy is an elaboration of his optimistic suggestion so well known in his 'every day in every way.' His theory is that the imagination is so much stronger than the will that the repetition of these helpful suggestions will soon make such a deep impression on the subconscious mind that the feeling of confidence in well being will permeate all thought and will thus give nature every assistance in recovery.

"He does not claim to do miracles, but works in harmony with the doctor. Two things he stresses which are certainly correct and which everybody should observe are "chew your food thoroughly and don't eat too much."

"His lectures are entirely free. He sells a little book on self-mastery. Evidently he is trying to do his part in making the world better. We came in here in the evening and reach Switzerland tonight."

Another of Mr. Kirk's letters will be published at an early date.

library every day during "Children's Book Week."

"There is no excuse for a child to grow up without forming the habit of reading," says Mrs. Danford. "I want to urge Glendale parents and teachers to join in the celebration of 'Children's Book Week' by bringing to the children the pleasure and benefit there is in becoming a book lover."

World's Model Theatre for Santa Barbara

SANTA BARBARA, Oct. 26.—Building of America's most modern and complete theatre to seat only 600 persons and upon which upwards of $300,000 will be spent, will be begun here November 1, it was announced by the Community Arts association, the organization which was recently endowed by the Carnegie Foundation of New York with an income of $25,000 a year to extend its Little Theare work.

Construction of the model playhouse, which it is expected will surpass any of the European art theatres in equipment and structural detail, will be supervised by a corps of theatre experts and when completed will give California the world's model stage, drama, workshop and scenic laboratories, according to dramatic authorities.

MEMBERSHIP GROWS

Total members of the California Real Estate association has passed 2000, and to be exact is 2040, according to the state publication. During the month of August ninety-one new members joined local boards. In California there are now ninety-one boards.

The Tie That Binds

THE UNITED STATES is a nation of far reaching relationships. Urged onward by new opportunities in a land of boundless resources, families have separated more than in any other land. Few men live where their fathers or grandfathers lived. Domestic ties stretch between communities widely scattered.

Commerce and industry, too, have the same spread of interests.

Though the nation is a federation of states, their boundaries form no barriers to trade. In business and social life, as well as in government, the nation has become a great community.

Hence there is a natural demand for telephone service that has no narrower bounderies than those of the country itself. Such a nation-wide service can be given only through an organization having a uniform policy by means of which all its distant activities can be joined together.

The Bell System provides such a service to meet the needs of a united people.

The Glowing Heart

This is the red hot inner core which gets every possible heat unit out of the gas and prevents odors

CLEAN, healthful, radiant heat—and lots of it!

No odor. No unburned gases. No smoke. No stuffy, devitalized air. The Lawson Odorless Gas Heater extracts all of the heat from each foot of gas consumed.

The Lawson Heater was designed with one big purpose in mind: To give heat—plenty of it—at low cost.

The red hot inner core—the "Glowing Heart"—forms a combustion chamber in which ALL of the gas is consumed at high temperature.

That is why the Lawson Odorless is the most efficient and economical gas heater you can buy. It gives more heat than larger and higher-priced gas heaters.

Absolutely safe, too. No open flame. The "Glowing Heart" is completely enclosed by the perforated steel jacket. No chance of setting fire to children's clothing, or to curtains or draperies. Sudden drafts cannot extinguish flame.

Attractive. Compact. Takes up little space. Easily carried from room to room. Five sizes, to suit every room from bath to living hall.

Made in Aluminum, Nickel, and Black finishes.
